NON-AID COMMITTEE PROPOSALS CHECKED BY RUSSIAN DEMAND

Soviet Delegate Refuses to Approve Belligerency Recognition for Spanish Combatants Before Full Repatriation of Foreign Volunteers Taking Part in Civil War

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Soviet Russia stood alone tonight in firm refusal to approve belligerency recognition for the Spanish combatants prior to full repatriation of foreign volunteers from the forces of both parties in the civil war.

A non-intervention sub-committee session, which adjourned at 8:50 p.m. until next Tuesday, succeeded only in accentuating the deadlock between the Russian and Anglo-German viewpoints. Soviet Ambassador Maisky refrained from voting on the belligerency question, which, he said, his Government considered outside the non-intervention realm.

VOICES ACCUSATION
German Ambassador von Ribbentrop accused Russia of trying to wreck non-intervention.
"I, for my part, do not see a way to lead us further if Soviet Russia does not change her attitude," the Nazi diplomat declared.
He made it clear the Fascist powers would accept no project for withdrawing volunteers unless there was unanimity among the interested nations.

COURT UPHOLDS BAN BY MAYOR

Refuses to Interfere With Civic Authority Over Public Meetings

MONTREAL, Oct. 29.—Mayor J. Adhemar Raynault's right to ban a meeting of the Friends of the Soviet Union was upheld in Superior Court after a two-day legal fight.

Mr. Justice Curran dismissed an application for an interlocutory injunction that would have prevented the French-speaking mayor from suppressing the gathering announced for tonight by the organization, which he claims is Communist.

A vigorous foe of Communism, Raynault yesterday ordered the meeting suppressed. Immediately, Louis Kon, one of the sponsors of the meeting, went to court and got a temporary injunction effective until today's hearing.

Kon claimed the projected assembly's chief speaker, General Victor Yakhontoff, had agreed not to touch on Communism in his address.

WARNING FROM STUDENTS
Raynault, who earlier in the week had banned a meeting that was to have heard a French Communist Deputy and Tim Buck, of Toronto, speak, took action on the Friends' meeting after a delegation of 200 University of Montreal students had warned there would be rioting if it came off. R. L. Calder, K.C., representing the F.S.U., said today he would seek the arrest of the student leader.

Mr. Justice Curran declared it was not the duty of the courts to interfere with civic authority in such cases. His Lordship added, however, he had no doubt of the "good faith" of those behind the meeting.

Together for Thanksgiving In the Abbey

LONDON, Oct. 29 (P).—Japanese knelt beside Chinese today in Westminster Abbey to pray for peace.

The historic shrine echoed with the chants of both tongues as a group of Japanese and Chinese Christians gathered at a jubilee thanksgiving service in celebration of the establishment of the Anglican Church in Japan and China. The Japanese Church is fifty years old and the Chinese twenty-five.

The Archbishop of Canterbury presided.

PALESTINE GUARDS REINFORCED TO QUELL RENEWED TERRORISM

English Mayor Fights With Shark On Floor of the Ocean

ST. IVES, Cornwall, Oct. 29.—Cecil Chard, Mayor of Falmouth and a professional diver, engaged in a life and death drama with a shark on the ocean bed of the harbor here today.

While Chard was engaged in laying a pipe on the floor of the ocean at a depth of thirty feet, the shark became entangled in his lifeline. The monster's struggles to extricate itself broke the lifeline, used to pull divers to the surface.

Chard said later: "I was pulled and pulled about. I managed to keep cool and to catch hold of the air pipe, getting to the surface that way. I am so sore I hardly know what to do." Otherwise he suffered no ill effects.

B.C. Legislature Hears Opposition In First Attacks

Conservative and C.C.F. Groups Open Guns on Administrative Policies, as House Recesses for Week-End—Standing Committees Named, But No Fresh Legislation Advanced

ISING for its first week-end recess, the Nineteenth Legislature adjourned yesterday until 2:30 p.m. on Monday, with no fresh legislation and little indication of Government policy before its members. Ministerial benches received their first baptism of fire during the day in a two-way broadside from Conservative and C.C.F. Opposition groups. Herbert Anscomb (Conservative, Victoria) and Colin Cameron (C.C.F., Comox) spoke on the main debate, which was adjourned by Mrs. Paul Smith (Liberal, Burrard). Standing committees were named.

Dr. Frank Patterson, Conservative chief and leader of the Opposition, will speak later in the debate, being prevented yesterday by minor indisposition. Speaking without much notice in his place, Herbert Anscomb delivered a vigorous and telling attack, which won him a hearty round of desk-thumping from all sides of the House at the close of a thoughtful address.

HERBERT ANSCOMB, M.P.P.
The Government, said Mr. Anscomb, was a minority one, with less than 40 per cent of the electorate behind it. The Speech from the Throne, he said, was a masterpiece of evasion.

TOLL OF DAMAGE IS PROVING HIGH
Railway Worker Fatally Injured When Clearing Log Jam—Loss Estimated in Thousands
VANCOUVER, Oct. 29.—Rail company and highway officials tonight started a compilation of bridge and highway damage caused by recent floods which claimed one life. Damage toll was expected to run into thousands of dollars.

James McCormick, fifty-two-year-old Canadian Pacific Railway workman and only known flood casualty, was fatally injured yesterday. He was aiding in clearing a log jam in the Coquihalla River along the Kettle Valley line of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The Pacific Great Eastern Railway was still tied up, and officials expected service would not be resumed until early next week. Other lines were cleared today.

STREAM OF SAND DELAYS RESCUE
CHELMSFORD, Mass., Oct. 30 (P).—A nineteen-year-old youth lay buried to his neck under a crumbling sandbank early today, trapped since late yesterday afternoon, despite feverish efforts of 100 workmen to shore up the constantly-sliding bank and dig him free.

Though injured in the body and legs, plucky Manuel Camacho, of Lowell, smoked cigarettes and tried to direct the policemen, firemen and volunteer workers.

Five of Jerusalem's Seven Gates Closed as Arabs Battle Police

ATTEMPT MADE TO AMBUSH OFFICIALS

JERUSALEM, Oct. 29 (CP-Havas).—For the first time since 1917 five of Jerusalem's seven gateways were closed today as British authorities took severe measures to cope with the tide of terrorism sweeping the Holy Land.

A detachment of British soldiers mounted guard at the Damascus Gate and a new police post of twenty men was installed in the old quarter of the city following fresh outbreaks between Jews and Arabs. Arab bands were reported to have made several attempts to cut the oil pipeline crossing the Trans-Jordan Desert and skirmishes took place between armed terrorists and police in Northern Palestine.

ARMS DUMP SEIZED
British authorities announced the seizure of a large quantity of arms and munitions in a house serving as a terrorist hideout. Police arrested twelve persons suspected of participation in recent acts of violence.

HOPE RESTS ON SLENDER BASIS

Seven Trapped Underground In French Mine—Other Disasters

ANZIN, France, Oct. 29.—Hope for the lives of seven men trapped sixty-five feet underground here in a coal mine cave-in, reminiscent of Canada's Moose River saga, hinged tonight on a slender air conduit which remained intact for twenty-four hours despite pressure of tons of earth and rock.

Rescue workers planned to lower food, water and flashlights through the narrow tube. Residents of Anzin, crowded at the surface around the mouth of the duct, through which they could hear the indistinguishable voices of the men trapped below, were kept in touch with developments in another mine disaster at Denain, five miles away.

SPARK CAUSES DISASTER
In the Renard shafts at Denain, a spark from a miner's pick caused a coal gas explosion yesterday, killing at least two of the nine men working nearby. Helmed workers wearing gas masks brought two bodies to the surface today, and a third was feared still buried under the debris. Of the six others, four were seriously injured, two of them probably fatally.

In the Vicoigne Mines at Anzin, seven men laboring on a gallery scaffolding were hurled into a sixty-five-foot pit when the earth gave way.

FARRAR IS ACQUITTED
CALGARY, Oct. 29.—Albert Farrar, young Olds district farmer, accused of the murder of his father, tonight was acquitted by a jury in the Alberta Supreme Court here.

"I thoroughly agree with your verdict," Mr. Justice H. R. Howson, presiding at his first murder trial, told the jury.

Peril Increasing For Foreigners In Battle Zone

Official Lists of Madrid Casualties Surprisingly Low

MADRID, Oct. 29 (P).—The Spanish Government announced today 800 persons had been killed and more than 4,000 hurt in the shellings and bombings of Madrid since the siege opened November 7, 1936. Observers found the official estimates surprisingly low. They amount to about five for every 1,000 persons during a period in which there were thirty air raids, fifty heavy shellings and innumerable light bombardments.

Three British Soldiers Killed by Japanese Gunfire West of Shanghai and Others Are Wounded—British Residents' Homes Hit—Several Shells Fall in French Concession

Terrible Punishment Visited On Chinese Interior Cities

SHANGHAI, Oct. 29 (P).—Three British soldiers were killed and three seriously wounded tonight as Japanese bombardments west of Shanghai brought deadly peril to Britons and other foreigners. British military headquarters said the privates, members of the Royal Ulster Rifles, were hit during a two-hour shelling by Japanese artillery of the Hungjiao area, west of Shanghai, to which Chinese forces had retreated from the old front north of the city.

Indignant British authorities protested vigorously to Admiral Kiyoshi Hasegawa, commanding Japanese naval forces at Shanghai. Only last Sunday another member of the Ulster Rifles was killed by fire from a Japanese plane.

AIMED AT HUNGJIAO

The shells that killed the British soldiers apparently came from Japanese batteries in Shanghai trying to hit Chinese positions in Hungjiao, residential and country club suburb southwest of Shanghai.

Riflemen William James and Mallon Howard were killed and Riflemen Jack McGuire, Robert Delaney and Jack Campbell, wounded when a shell scored a direct hit on a British dugout at the junction of Kowick and Brennan Roads, at the northwest corner of the International settlement. About twenty-five men were in the position.

Riflemen Joseph O'Toole was killed while having an off-duty glass of beer in the Honeyland bar, opposite the entrance to Jessfield Park, last Sunday.

NAMED FOR CHANCELLOR

Governor-General May Be Elected Head of Edinburgh University

EDINBURGH, Oct. 29.—Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada, and the Marquess of Lothian were nominated today at a meeting of the general council of Edinburgh University for the chancellorship of the university vacated by the death of Sir James Barrie.

Election was postponed until November 26 as the question was raised of a possible misunderstanding in regard to Lord Tweedsmuir's position.

Dr. Alexander Miles, a member of the university council, read a cablegram which he said had been received by a member of Lord Tweedsmuir's family in which the Governor-General said that when he allowed his name to be put forward he was not informed there was any other nomination.

Dr. Miles said Lord Tweedsmuir seemed to suggest the matter of nomination still was before the council's special committee, which would decide which of the two names it would put forward to the council.

He suggested the council take no action which might embarrass Lord Tweedsmuir in view of his "distinguished Canadian position."

The nominators agreed, whereupon the postponement decision was taken.

It was pointed out that should Lord Tweedsmuir be chosen chancellor he could hold the position together with his present office.

Car Wrecked in Auto Graveyard

ALBION, N.Y., Oct. 29 (P).—John Coveny, eighteen, and Orrin Prest, seventeen, were out riding when their car crashed through a railing and came to rest dangling over a verne Starkweather's junk pile and auto graveyard.

The two jumped to safety and made a deal with Starkweather.

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

GIRL SHOT IN CABIN—SPORTSMAN HELD
SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Oct. 29.—Vernon Spencer, forty-year-old Winton, Mich., sportsman, was held in custody here tonight, by Coroner Dr. J. P. Keith, as a material witness in the death of Helen Grier, Battle Creek, Mich., found shot through the head in an isolated Log Lake, Ont., cottage.

LOYALISTS REPORT VICTORY OVER INSURGENTS
HENDAYE, Oct. 29 (P).—A Spanish Government communiqué announced tonight an insurgent surprise attack on the Guadalajara front, northeast of Madrid, had been beaten, and the insurgents suffered heavy losses.

CLEVELAND POLICE CAPTURE GANGSTER
CLEVELAND, Oct. 29 (P).—Cleveland police announced they captured Frank Bird, nationally hunted gangster, and his wife, here tonight. Bird was captured without a shot being fired, at the home of his wife's parents.

SOCIALIST VOTE TO ACT WITH BRITAIN
(Copyright 1937 by The Havas News Agency)
LILLE, France, Oct. 29 (CP-Havas).—The Radical-Socialist party, moderate wing of the Popular Front Coalition Government, tonight unanimously adopted a resolution calling for defence of France's national interests, including her Mediterranean communications, and for concerted action with Great Britain in international affairs.

JAPANESE THREATEN TO BLAST BATTALION
SHANGHAI, Oct. 29 (P).—The Japanese Navy today gave China's "lost battalion" in Chapei until tomorrow to surrender, and warned American and British defence units and residents of nearby sections in the International Settlement, to take precautions. Unless the Chinese give up their warehouse stronghold, just across Soochow Creek from the American defence positions, the Japanese said they would blast them out.

ARAB REVOLT IN MOROCCO BROKEN

Troops Crush Attempt to Set Up Independent Kingdom in French Colony

CASABLANCA, French Morocco, Oct. 29 (P).—The French Foreign Legion and Senegalese troops established military control in the streets of Morocco's chief cities tonight to crush what officials said was a Nationalist plot to overthrow the French protectorate and set up an independent Arab kingdom.

Officials said the Nationalists had plotted against Sultan Sidi Mohammed as well as the French, and declared the conspirators were supplied money by "a European totalitarian power."

Moulay Allal el Fassi, Nationalist leader, who was slated to become king of the new state, members of his "cabinet" and hundreds of his followers were jailed as a result of yesterday's street-fighting between Arabs and French troops.

Obstacle Is in Way Of Salary Revision For Local Teachers

School Board, Sitting as Special Committee, Decides to Defer Action Until Receipt of Report From Educational Commission

REVISION of teachers' salaries will be deferred by the School Board until a report is received from the Department of Education Commission planning to conduct a survey here, it was decided yesterday afternoon when the board met as a special salary committee. Trustees Percy E. George and Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin were unavoidably absent.

No annual increments will be granted by the board until the educational commission completes its work, trustees agreed without debate. Increments are usually added to teachers' salaries in September and January until a maximum is reached.

October cheques will be paid to teachers, accompanied by a copy of the following letter:

"As the matter of salary schedule is still under consideration, the accompanying cheque for October salary is paid without prejudice."

EXPLAINS LETTER

It was explained by Trustee W. C. Moresby, K.C., board chairman, that the letter indicated any increments granted later might be retroactive to October.

Mr. Moresby made the following statement in regard to the Government educational commission and salary revision:

"It is apparent the educational commission will have a wide scope, including an investigation of teachers' qualifications and school finances. It would seem a waste of time to discuss any salary revision with teachers until the commission makes its recommendations. For my part, I shall only be connected with the school board for another two months.

"I do not see how we could accomplish anything until the commission completes its task. Even if we decided upon salary adjustments this year, we have no funds left for the purpose in the present budget. It will be wise for the board to defer action," Mr. Moresby concluded.

ACTION DEFERRED

A motion of Trustee Kenneth Ferguson, seconded by Trustee Charles R. Bishop, that salary revision action be deferred was passed by the committee.

"Our time is nearly up. Anything we did in the matter would only be a recommendation to the incoming board," Trustee Bishop remarked. Trustee John Wallace was of the same opinion.

In discussing the status of Victoria High School students whose homes were outside the city, but who lived within the school district five days each week, the board decided to send bills to students' respective districts.

Central Junior School salaries as set for October were confirmed and will remain at the same figure for the balance of the year.

TRAGEDY OF WAR SHOWN

Miss Lola Maxwell Reviews Elliott Paul's Story About Spanish Town

The ghastly effect of war, with the toll of lives, its wreckage of homes and despoliation of the land, its drawing of sword between friend and friend, and its terrible aftermath of suffering among the whole of humanity, has been told and retold by many able pens. One of the most recent writers on the subject is Elliott Paul, an American, whose "Life and Death of a Spanish Town" was very sympathetically and thoughtfully reviewed by Miss Lola Maxwell, yesterday afternoon, for the Y.W.C.A. Reading Club.

On the eve of "Peace Week," November 8 to 14, the talk was a timely commentary on conditions which the League of Nations Society, sponsor of that commemoration of "The Great War Dead," was fighting, a fact to which Mrs. Alan Campbell, who occupied the chair, called attention.

WAR'S IMPLICATIONS

Miss Maxwell prefaced her book review with a short discussion of the whole Spanish situation and its implications, Paul's story dealing with the effect of the Spanish civil war on the people of the little town of Santa Eulalia on one of the smaller Balearic Islands. Nine or ten of the principal characters in this contemporary war-time drama were described in the author's words to show the picturesque, romantic, harmonious and quietly useful lives that were lived in the seven-centuries-old community of 4,000 souls before military bombs and other terrifying implements of war killed, wounded and scattered the populace and annihilated their homes.

The first part of the book was taken up with the peace-time picture; the last part with the events that happened after July, 1936, a few days after Elliott Paul had returned to Santa Eulalia with the idea of remaining there for the rest of his life. What happened to each of the lovable and interesting characters would be found in that part of the story, and because of the horror of it all, in terrible contrast to the delightful picture in the earlier part of the book, Miss Maxwell advised intending readers not to hurry through the first part of the narrative.

APPRAISAL GIVEN

In her estimate of the book, Miss Maxwell thought it "historically very partisan," but no one who had lived so close to the scene as the author would be anything else. But while one felt the apportionment of blame for the tragic happenings that befell the peaceful island community lacked perspective, she herself had found her sympathies lay in the same direction as the author's. Judged from a literary standpoint, the story, quite apart from its historical and propaganda interest, was still noteworthy as a careful, loving, and thoughtful study of the character of these people, who, during the days of dark tragedy, proved themselves courageous and high-minded men and women.

Announcement was made that the speaker at the Current Events Group meeting on Friday next would be Mrs. Paul Smith, M.P.P. She will speak on "Search for Security."

New University Head Installed

SASKATOON, Oct. 29 (P).—James Sutherland Thomson, M.A., D.D., late of the faculty of Pine Hill College, Halifax, became the second president of the University of Saskatchewan at a special convocation here today. He succeeded Dr. Walter C. Murray, founder and first president of the university, to whose distinguished services special tributes were paid.

LORD EUSTACE PERCY LEAVING COMMONS

LONDON, Oct. 29 (P).—The London Gazette today announced that Lord Eustace Percy is retiring from his seat in the House of Commons.

Lord Eustace Percy was recently appointed rector of the Newcastle Division of Durham University, and in announcing his acceptance said he would retire from Parliament, as his duties at the university there would be incompatible with performance of his work at Westminster.

STAYED WITH HUNT UNTIL SUCCESSFUL

JEROME, Idaho, Oct. 29 (P).—R. L. Cornell and his ten-year-old son, Dean, unreported six days in the Central Idaho wilderness, emerged at Seaford Ranger Station last night and explained they had just continued their deer hunt until they killed a buck.

BANDED PHEASANT CAUGHT BY FIREMEN

NANAIMO, Oct. 29.—A pheasant banded in 1934 took shelter in Nanaimo Fire Hall today, and only after a long chase was captured by members of the brigade. Game Warden Greenfield took possession of the bird and liberated it in a nearby district.

ORDER PAPER IN HOUSE SWELLING

Opposition Asks Creation of Additional Facilities for Those Who Are Mentally Sick

Provincial creation of "adequate facilities for psychopathic observation and treatment of mentally sick persons," is the subject of notice of motion filed this week with Mr. Speaker by E. E. Winch (C.C.F., Burnaby). Only one bill is on the paper at present, being a measure to amend the Landlords and Tenants' Act. Questions and motions, however, are being filed in some volume.

Dr. Lyle Telford (C.C.F., Vancouver East) wants the Nineteenth Legislature to investigate the operation of the Natural Products Marketing Act, as the Eighteenth Legislature did in its turn a year ago. He has placed a motion on the order paper asking reference of the statute and its operation to the House committee on agriculture.

R. L. Maitland, K.C. (Cons., Point Grey), catching up on his information, has given notice of forty-four questions to Ministers of Finance, Public Works and the Attorney-General, on Tuesday next. Mr. Maitland is questioning loans, road construction, club licences and sums spent on advertising in the press, as well as going after work of road projects by separate ridings. The questions occupy four galleries in proof, and have been allowed by Mr. Speaker.

Liberals Meet Tonight to Fix Convention Date

The central executive of the Victoria Liberal Association will meet tonight at 8 o'clock, when arrangements will be made for the nominating convention to choose a candidate for the approaching election here. The date for the convention will be fixed, and committees appointed. All delegates are requested to attend.

PROFESSOR STRESSES INFLUENCE OF PRESS

WINNIPEG, Oct. 29 (P).—Value of a daily press in presenting facts and opinions of the world was stressed by Prof. W. F. Osborne, of University of Manitoba, in a speech today before Northeastern Teachers' Association here. He urged members to "watch the press" as the greatest medium by which they could keep in touch with world affairs and so fulfill their proper function as teachers.

Killed on Way to Work in New Post

LONDON, Oct. 29 (P).—Herbert Wilbraham Northey, thirty, who today was to have taken over his duties as chief accountant of the British Broadcasting Corporation, was killed in a motor accident while driving to work.

Northey was killed instantly when his car climbed the pavement of Chiswick Road and struck a tree.

NURSES ON STRIKE

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 29 (P).—Twenty-two nurses, the entire nursing staff of the Douglas County Hospital, resigned today, effective November 1, but later agreed to give county officials four days' additional time in which to act on their complaint of overwork.

LILLE, France, Oct. 29 (P).—Edouard Herriot, President of the Chamber of Deputies, today brought the Radical-Socialist Congress to its feet with roaring approval after a dramatic address in which he declared France never would turn to Fascism.

Rescue work at Sungkiang was greatly hampered, Chinese said, because Japanese planes hovered over the city after bombing it, and machine-gunned rescue workers. The raid on Sungkiang destroyed a large part of the Southern Methodist Mission, which consists of two churches, the Susan B. Wilson School for Girls and a Christian education centre for adults. The Wilson School was set afire and almost completely destroyed, the residence right to disallow provincial legislation. Advised that the Dominion Government had announced it would ask the court to give an opinion on whether the power of disallowance vested in the Governor-General-in-Council by the British North America Act was still a subsisting power.

Mr. Bennett said: "Of course it's still a subsisting power. The Government is given the power in the B.N.A. Act, and the Statute of Westminster states clearly enough that the B.N.A. Act can not be changed by Dominion authority."

"I must say the reference is a mighty effort."

Brisk and cheerful as he stepped from the train, Mr. Bennett was greeted by officials of the British Columbia Conservative Association and Conservative Members of Parliament.

"How's the old war-horse?" one platform welcomer asked while shaking hands.

Mr. Bennett replied with a broad smile: "The old war-horse is getting older."

He said he did not intend to visit Victoria this trip, but would return to Kelowna on Tuesday to address a meeting of the Canadian Club there.

The Best Insulated House in British Columbia!

House Now Under Construction at the Corner of Beach Drive and Falkland Road

Thousands of people in Victoria are interested in better home construction, and to everyone we issue this invitation. Come this week-end . . . attend a preview of a house that is unique in British Columbia. It is insulated INSIDE and OUT with "Fibrock," a new material that is absolutely fire-proof; has great tensile strength and at the same time is the last word in insulating qualities and forms the perfect base for stucco or plaster. The more experience you have had in the selection of building materials, the more you will be impressed with "Fibrock" construction.

If you are interested in modern home construction it is essential that you visit this house this week-end, for during the coming week the "Fibrock" base will be covered with outside stucco and inside plaster.

Another Feature of Note Is That This is roofed with the new DuroiD Heavy Slab Shingles good for 40 years. The house in its entirety is of British Columbia materials and is a perfect example of how a modern house should be built for strength and comfort.

DUIROID

News From Britain To Be Broadcast in Foreign Languages

News, Not Propaganda, to Be Made Available From B.B.C. to European Nations, Postmaster-General Says—Will Counter Other Services

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The Government plans to broadcast "straight news and not the sort of propaganda that goes out from some countries," Postmaster-General G. C. Tryon told the House of Commons today in announcing the Government had decided to begin broadcasts in foreign languages.

The announcement came during debate on the Address in Reply to the Speech from the Throne and followed a demand by Herbert Morrison, a leading Labor member, that such broadcasts be started in German, Italian and French to counter "state propaganda."

Mr. Tryon said decision had been reached before Mr. Morrison raised the question.

"When we send out news it will be straight news and not the sort of propaganda that goes out from some countries, not to their credit and not for the better information of the many thousands of people who listen to it," the Postmaster-General said.

STRAIGHT AND IMPARTIAL

Mr. Morrison said what was wanted was not "propaganda from Broadcasting House (British Broadcasting Corporation headquarters) but straight and impartial news such as B.B.C. now was giving."

Dispersing of such news, as was now done to the Empire, "is merely giving other nations a chance to know what is happening in our country and refusal to do this is contrary to the interests of the British Commonwealth and of our own country," he said.

The announcement was made before the House adjourned for the week-end. On Monday, Prime Minister Chamberlain is expected to wind up debate on a Labor amendment to the Address in Reply, moved today. Foreign Secretary Eden and Major Clement Attlee, Opposition leader, will also speak then.

Mr. Morrison, Labor leader in the London County Council, criticized the Prime Minister as a man with a "crude mercantile class conscious outlook" as he moved the labor amendment.

ATTACKS GOVERNMENT

It described the Government's policy in foreign affairs as "vacillating" and said it had "gravely imperilled the prospect for lasting peace and national security." The Government "have betrayed the principles of the League of Nations and seriously diminished British influence," the amendment read.

Home Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare repudiated the suggestion that the Government was not as anxious for peace as Labor.

The Prime Minister, he said, had a record second to none for humane administration and Opposition charges against him were groundless.

B.C. LEGISLATURE HEARS OPPOSITION

Throne had given little explanation of intent for the future, while performances on the pledges of the past had left much to be desired. The Government had not produced "work and wages"; no practical solution had been forthcoming for unemployment, and jobless men had, on the contrary, been jailed for begging on the streets.

Yukon annexation had been held out before the electorate as a prize, but if British Columbia took over the Yukon with an annual Federal subsidy of $125,000 for five years, it would find the liabilities outweighed the advantages of that arrangement, in his opinion. With the scheme would go provincial taxation for unwilling Yukoners, and a separate schools issue for the people of British Columbia.

DUPLICATION

A Provincial Department of Trade and Commerce, continued Mr. Anscomb, would be merely duplication of efficient present Federal services, and, perhaps, a few more government jobs for friends of the administration in power.

Though warned by its own forestry corps of serious depletion of timber stocks, the Province has done nothing effective to bring about a practical measure of conservation. Cathedral Grove was still in private hands, and virgin timber on the West Coast of Vancouver Island was being removed, with prospect of further extended raids in future. Six miles of timber along the projected route of the West Coast road should at least be preserved, he suggested.

Deferring the detailed case for municipal aid to be dealt with by Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter later, Mr. Anscomb reminded the Administration that its revenues had recovered from $20,000,000 to $28,000,000, with a restoration of less than $700,000 to the municipalities, in the face of added actual and putative social service costs for civic taxpayers to bear.

VICTORIA CASE

He stressed the need for a Capital City grant to Victoria, in lieu of unrecognized public services paid for by the city on large holdings of Provincial property here.

Alderman seventy-eight British Columbia municipalities as a whole had measured less than the Province had received in the interim subsidy of $750,000 per annum, secured by the former Administration from Ottawa, after representation to Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, then Prime Minister. The Rowell Commission offered no solution to the municipalities, but might bring official delay in the Government's promised aid to a total of six years, counting from the date of the initial election pledges. Meanwhile, some municipalities were in a bad way; and every possibility of repudiation would weaken the credit of the Province itself, Mr. Anscomb said.

BACK CIVIC AID

"The Conservative party will support any sound legislation which will place the municipalities of the province on a sound basis; and since the revenues of the Province have improved by $8,000,000 since the pit of the depression, there is no valid reason why this should not already have been done. We say it should be done now, at this session, and before the municipalities budget for next year," Mr. Anscomb declared.

"We think that there should be a revision of taxation now, by the Legislature itself, without waiting for the Rowell Commission to report," the member for Victoria added.

HEALTH INSURANCE

Turning to health insurance, Mr. Anscomb declared the Government had launched an unworkable scheme by statute, and let the statute lie idle, while $100,000 had been advanced to foster the plan and an expensive commission set up with high salaries and virtually nothing to do. A meaningless plebiscite had been taken, and after the Government had that result in hand, nothing could be done with it.

In traveling expenses, the ministry had excelled itself, the member for Victoria continued. Public accounts for the year closed showed that a total of $22,000 had been spent by ministers in trips to various destinations. This perambulation has cost the taxpayers at the rate of $9.25 per minute for each working day of eight hours.

STILL GOING BEHIND

"The Conservative party is pledged to support every possible reduction in the cost of government, where such reduction is sound and equitable. We say that it is nothing short of outrageous that with revenues $8,000,000 more than they were during the depths of the depression, the Government should still be going behind millions per year," Mr. Anscomb declared.

Dealing briefly with the toll bridge over the Fraser River at New Westminster, the member for Victoria said the administration had sought unsuccessfully for a $2,000,000 grant at Ottawa, and now proposed to sell the existing toll bridge and ask a transfer of part of the new debt to the general taxpayers, without any relief from old liabilities on the original structure still in daily use. Was this, he asked, a bait put before the House to facilitate fulfillment of election pledges to new Westminster?

In general, concluded Mr. Anscomb, the administration had taken great credit for the recovery of semi-prosperous times, while all facts showed such recovery was the result of Dominion treaties and world markets.

COLIN CAMERON, M.P.P.

Colin Cameron, following for the C.C.F., made a vigorous speech in which he decried lack of attention to unemployment, and the realization on the part of the Province that that constituted a major problem which would be faced. He quoted Hon. W. D. Herridge in a speech in which the latter had said that there could be no compromise on the issue; that countries could only go forward by new economic planning to an era of abundance, or back to "scandalous scarcity," with the assurance that the threat of unrest would become an active, dangerous force.

The member for Comox asserted he had been blocked from visiting workers in some logging camps on his riding by reason of company action. If democracy was to mean anything, it would have to be used in daily practice, and not saved for an election tidbit once every four years, Mr. Cameron concluded.

Mrs. Paul Smith adjourned debate for the day and will be followed on Monday by Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter (Conservative, Victoria), and, in turn, by Harold E. Winch (C.C.F., Vancouver East).

Replying to a question by R. L. Maitland, K.C., M.P.P., Premier Pattullo undertook to place the MacDonald Commission's report on coal and fuel oil before the Legislature as soon as the Government has read the document. The report would be tabled at this session, the Premier volunteered. Mr. Maitland asked that the House have access to the report at an early date. The House adjourned at 4 p.m. until 2:30 p.m. on Monday.

TRAINING BIG GUNS ON VICTORIA CONTEST

VANCOUVER, Oct. 29.—Liberal officials here said today they had been advised from Ottawa that Hon. Ian MacKenzie, Minister of National Defence, and Norman Lambert, president of the National Liberal Federation, would come to British Columbia to work in the Victoria by-election campaign.

ISLAND LIKED BY AMERICANS

George I. Warren, Home From Trip South, Praises Their Co-operation

After a three-week trip, in which he traveled as far south as Berkeley, California, George I. Warren, Commissioner, Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, returned home yesterday afternoon.

"My trip was most successful from a business viewpoint," said Mr. Warren. "Everywhere, I was well received as a representative of Victoria, and the city was featured by speakers at the various gatherings attended. Our neighbors to the south are appreciative of Victoria, and extend warm co-operation to us."

Leaving here October 7, Mr. Warren attended the dinner meeting of the Hoteliers of the Olympic Peninsula and Oregon Coast at Astoria, Oregon, October 13, and the Rotary Club at Roseburg, Oregon, October 14. The same day he attended the annual meeting of the Oregon Caverns at Grant's Pass.

WAS GUEST SPEAKER

Two days later, the commissioner was guest speaker at the banquet at the annual meeting of the Oregon Coast Highway Association. He addressed the Rotary Club of Coquille, Oregon, October 13, and the Rotary Club at Roseburg, Oregon, October 14. The same day he attended the annual meeting of the Oregon Caverns at Grant's Pass.

On October 15, he addressed the Chamber of Commerce of that town, and the next day he was guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Southern Hotel Association of Klamath Falls.

Mr. Warren also attended the annual meeting of the Shasta Cascade Wonderland Association, held in Susanville and in Westwood, Calif., October 18 and 19. He also visited Oregon Caves; Diamond Lake; Crater Lake, Oregon; Reno, Nevada, and Lake Tahoe, Calif., conferring with resort owners and automobile club officials regarding tourist travel. From there he proceeded to San Jose, San Francisco and Berkeley, where he contacted newspaper, magazine and travel editors in connection with next year's tourist business.

INSPECTED BILLBOARDS

Mr. Warren also inspected all the billboards of the bureau, and made arrangements for several more at strategic points on the Coast. He found all boards in excellent condition.

A considerable amount of valuable publicity for the city and Island was obtained by Mr. Warren when he spoke on a national hook-up over the Mutual Broadcasting Company from Roseburg, coupling and comparing the fishing attractions found in Vancouver Island streams with those of the Rogue and Umpqua Rivers.

NON-AID COMMITTEE PROPOSALS CHECKED

Whatever action the sub-committee takes Tuesday, a full meeting of the twenty-seven-power committee will take place Wednesday, when Lord Plymouth plans to ask approval of the British plan, as well as committee authorization, to approach the Spanish Government and the insurgents in regard to the plan's proposals.

MUST BE UNANIMOUS
The German, Italian and Portuguese delegates accepted the British plan, subject to the condition that there must be unanimity if their adherence was to hold good.

The remaining five powers, Great Britain, France, Czechoslovakia, Belgium and Sweden, gave their approval without reservation.

Malsky said his Government "can no longer take upon itself any responsibilities for a policy of non-intervention which it considers to be unjust, futile and tending to encourage aggressors."

In line with Russia's willingness to assist by every means a policy of real and absolute non-intervention," he continued, he was prepared to accept those portions of the resolution approved on Tuesday by the eight other sub-committee powers providing for repatriation of

PALESTINE GUARDS ARE REINFORCED

The Jewish press was unanimous in expressing regret over resignation of Sir Arthur Grenfell Wauchope as Palestine High Commissioner, effective early in 1938. Sir Arthur's resignation was announced in London yesterday.

Regrets expressed here were conditioned, however, by expressions of disapproval for the high commissioner's "leniency" shown toward Arabs who, Palestinian Jews contend, respect only firmness.

A serious incident was reported at Lydda, where an armed Arab band surrounded the home of the chief of police and fired on him as he stepped into his automobile.

The chief of police, two sergeants and the chauffeur were wounded in the gun battle which ensued. As a result, all residents of Lydda were ordered to remain in their houses for twenty-four hours.

APPEAL IS TAKEN TO COUNTY COURT

The County Court will sit on Monday, November 1, for the purpose of fixing the dates for the hearing of the different cases which have been entered for trial during the coming month.

An appeal is being taken during the month in the case of Wesley Boyd, from the decision of Stipendiary Magistrate H. C. Hall. A date for the hearing of this review of the case will be set on Monday, with C. H. Tait appearing for the appellant Boyd. Boyd was found guilty of driving to the common danger when he collided with a car on the Jordan River Road, with the result that the victim of the accident suffered serious injuries by compound fractures of his leg.

The other cases set down for hearing are as follows: David E. Taylor vs. A. E. Smith; John C. Smith vs. J. McIntyre; William Blakeney vs. G. Goudie and C. L. Bradley.

Overhead Cost for Community Chest Is Lowest Ever Known

Expenses Will Be Only 5 Per Cent, Frank Paulding Tells Division "B" Dinner—Dr. H. M. Cassidy Explains Value of Private Agencies

"So far as overhead expenses and cost of administration are concerned, the Community Chest drive is going to be the cheapest campaign ever conducted in North America, costing only 5 per cent, as compared with an average of from 8.5 to 9 per cent for a city of the size of Victoria," Frank Paulding told a dinner gathering of nearly a hundred workers in Division "B" of the campaign in Spencer's dining-room last night.

Confidence that with such a spirited and enthusiastic start on the part of the workers, no difficulty would be experienced in reaching the objective was expressed by R. W. Mayhew, division chairman, who presided at the dinner.

FINE THING FOR CITY

"I think the Community Chest is one of the best pieces of work ever started in Victoria for a long time," Mr. Mayhew declared. It would mean proper supervision for all the organizations interested, and it was a fine thing for the city to have the community brought together in co-operation in this undertaking," he said. Victoria had been lacking in co-operative urge in the past, and if this could be developed by means of the Community Chest, a great service would be rendered.

Mr. Mayhew said he believed that what was put into the chest would be returned in building up a better Victoria. Division "B" had been set an objective which he thought was too low. It should aim at $10,000 at least, which would represent only $100 to each worker.

BENEFITS STATED

Full details of the organization of the campaign and of the allocation of districts; an explanation of the worker's kit supplied to each collector, and advice to the workers as to how to conduct their campaign were given by Mr. Paulding. Outlining the benefits to be derived from the Community Chest system, he stated that at the beginning of the year there were 448 Community Chests in North America and their testimony was that the chests were a good thing.

Contributors would be given stickers to be placed in the windows of residences to show that subscriptions had been made, and this would obviate the irritation of double calling, the speaker explained.

It would be impossible to find a better example of efficiency in organization, Mr. Paulding declared, in referring to the small overhead cost. As to the suggestion that some might make that $75,000 was too much for charity and welfare work, the speaker pointed out that New Year's Eve cost Victoria residents $100,000 just for amusement, whereas the $75,000 was for twenty-three welfare organizations for one year.

REMARKABLY EFFICIENT

"I am enormously impressed with the remarkably efficient way the whole thing has developed and the machinery that has been built up," said Dr. H. M. Cassidy, provincial director of welfare work, introducing his address on the value of the work of private social welfare agencies.

These organizations had a particular constituency—the destitute, the defective, the delinquent, and the people on the fringes of those classes, the speaker explained. To show the extent of social aid in British Columbia, he quoted the following statistics of people receiving relief in August:

Unemployment relief, 49,350; provincial poor relief, 1,550; municipal poor relief, 2,250; neglected and dependent children, 700; mothers' pensions, 5,350; old age pensions, 11,200; inmates of mental hospitals, 3,400; inmates of tuberculosis institutions, 650; inmates of jails, penitentiaries, etc., 850; indigent patients of general hospitals, 1,450; inmates of other Provincial institutions, 400; war veterans' allowances and unemployment assistance, 8,000; a total of 85,150, or 11.7 per cent of the population, apart from Indians.

SERVICE OF AGENCIES

The work carried on by the private agencies for the underprivileged could be placed in three categories, Dr. Cassidy explained. Firstly, they provided a certain amount of monetary relief; secondly, they rehabilitated people who were in difficulties, a service that was often more important than relief, and thirdly, they carried on service of a preventive nature, designed to save the breakdown of families or individuals. Food, clothing and shelter were things that must be provided, but it was far better to help the people to stand on their own feet than to go on supporting them. The work of re-

LOAN SCHEMES AID BUILDING

Much Credit Given G. Hamilton Harman by Chamber Of Commerce Directors

Sixty-two loans have been made locally, under the provisions of the Dominion Housing Act, aggregating $85,000, while $78,000 has been made available under the Home Improvement plan, James Parfitt, chairman of the building committee of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, reported to directors, Thursday.

Mr. Parfitt, who declared that both plans had been completely successful in this city, said much credit was due G. Hamilton Harman, manager of the Bank of Montreal, who had been unceasing in his efforts in securing the loans.

As a result, building has been stimulated considerably in Greater Victoria, he pointed out. Mr. Harman told directors his work in arranging the loans had been as a member of the committee of administration for the schemes, and their successful operation reflected credit upon the committee as a whole.

NIGHT LIGHTING FOR SEA ISLAND AIRPORT

VANCOUVER, Oct. 29 (P).—The civic utilities committee today decided to call for tenders immediately from five or six electrical companies for the installation of night lighting system at the Sea Island Airport.

It was estimated the cost of the work would run approximately $12,000.

TO DISCUSS FLAG

Members of the directorate of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce will meet at the home of Major F. V. Longstaff, Monday evening, to discuss the matter of the Canadian flag, it was announced yesterday.

ARMISTICE TO BE OBSERVED

Fitting Ceremonies Planned For Remembrance Day, November 11

Remembrance Day will be observed with fitting ceremonies in Victoria and Esquimalt with services at the Cenotaph in Parliament Square and in the Municipal Memorial Park, Esquimalt, on November 11.

Veterans' organizations and units of the Royal Canadian Navy, the permanent force and the non-permanent active militia will take part in the Victoria parade. A detachment of the permanent force, under the command of Captain G. A. F. Townsend, R.C.O.C., will attend the Esquimalt ceremony.

The naval and military units will parade on Wharf Street at 10:30 a.m., and from there will march to their places on Belleville Street, in front of the Parliament Buildings at 10:30 a.m.

Sentries to stand with arms reversed at the base of the war memorial will be provided by the Canadian Navy, the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry (Permanent Force), the Fifth (B.C.) Coast Brigade, Canadian Artillery, and the Canadian Scottish Regiment.

Time guns of the Fifth Heavy Battery, R.C.A., will mark the beginning and end of the two minutes' silence from 11 a.m. until 11:02 o'clock. Trumpeters of the Fifth Brigade will sound the Last Post and the Reveille after the Silence.

The Canadian Legion Band will furnish the music for hymns at the Cenotaph, while the Fifth Brigade Band will provide the accompaniment for the March Past.

Hon. Eric W. Hamber will take the salute following the Cenotaph ceremony. Members of veterans' organizations and the Royal Canadian Navy will lead off the later ceremony past the saluting base on the Causeway, opposite the Empress Hotel.

UNDAUNTED BY FATAL FLIGHT

Soviet Flyers Will Continue Aerial Explorations in Arctic Regions

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 29 (P).—The failure of one flight will not halt Soviet Russia's aerial explorations in the Arctic regions. A. Vartanian, Moscow engineer, told interviewers yesterday.

Vartanian, who conducted the search for the six men aboard the great transport lost on August 13, said he did not know when the next plane would leave Russia.

The new engineer was en route to New York to report to Soviet Ambassador Alexander Troyanovsky. He will return to Fairbanks within two weeks to direct the hunt through the winter.

PREPARE PLANS FOR HALLOWE'EN

The police of Victoria want the children of the city to have as much fun as possible on Hallowe'en night, but will not tolerate property damage, or wilful acts. Chief Thomas Heatley warned yesterday.

"The city has arranged for organized bonfires, which the children may attend, and at which we are prepared to allow every latitude so that their fun may not be spoiled," the chief said.

He particularly warned against lowering are lights, a practice which is at once illegal and highly dangerous, since the lights carry high voltage, which may result in injury, or perhaps death.

There will be extra patrols this evening, and a number of additional cars will be utilized.

ANNUAL DINNER HELD BY CLUB

Over thirty members and friends attended the fourth annual Y.M.C.A. Camera Club banquet held in the Y.M.C.A. cafeteria last evening. Harvey Dobson presided.

Following the dinner, an entertainment programme was enjoyed. Miss Ruth Mullins and Bill Mullins played a piano duet, and several humorous recitations were given by Bert Lillie. Accompanied by Mrs. Dobson, Harvey Dobson gave two vocal selections, and the evening was concluded with the showing of moving pictures taken by Norman Dunn and Matthew Bong.

Obituary

GUSH—The death occurred at Rest Haven Sanatorium, Sidney, yesterday of Mrs. Eliza Gush, widow of John Gush, West Saanich Road, Patricia Bay, aged seventy-seven years. She was born in Branscombe, Devonshire, England; came to Canada twenty-one years ago and had been living in British Columbia for the past eight years, residing first with her son, William J. Gush, at Saanichton, and later with her daughter, Mrs. William McCulloch, at Patricia Bay. There are five surviving children, all in Canada: Mrs. A. J. Burrows, Raymore, Sask.; Mrs. W. McCulloch, Patricia Bay; William J. Gush, Saanichton; Walter Gush, Raymore, Sask.; and Arthur Gush, Patricia Bay; also ten grandchildren. Mrs. Gush was a life-long member and worker of the Congregational Church in England. The remains are resting in Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, where funeral services will be held on Tuesday at 2 p.m. Rev. Thomas Keyworth officiating. Interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

STEAR—At the Royal Jubilee Hospital, George Stear, of 849 North Park Street, passed away Thursday, aged seventy-five years. Born in Ashburton, England, he had been a resident of this city for the past eight years. There survive one daughter, Mrs. Ralph Warner, Bellingham, Wash.; a sister, Mrs. J. Farnell Gervis, of 849 North Park Street, and four grandchildren. Mr. Stear was a member of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons of London, England. The funeral will take place on Monday in Sands Mortuary at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in Colwood Burial Park.

SYKES—The funeral of James Roberts Sykes will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock in Sands Mortuary. Rev. S. Ryall will officiate, and the remains will be laid at rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

O'BRIEN—The funeral of the late John Thomas O'Brien, which was announced to take place this morning, has been postponed until Monday morning. The remains will be removed from Sands Mortuary, Ltd., to Our Lady of Lourdes Church, the Willows, on Sunday afternoon, where, at 8 p.m., prayers will be said. On Monday morning, Mass will be celebrated at the church at 9 o'clock. The remains will be laid at rest in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

CHAPTER XIII

"There'll be a thousand more questions," Syrie reminded Robert. "And I shan't know what to answer—unless you are there."

"Leave everything to me," Robert said grandly.

Syrie smiled. "Then it will be all right—if you are there." She held her pretty head on one side considering him. "It's wonderful the amount of trust I have in you," she told him.

Robert's color deepened. "A trust which will not be abused," he answered quietly. "Have a cigarette?" They smoked in silence for a moment till Robert said, "I'm going to give you the afternoon off when we've had lunch."

"Lunch . . . I couldn't eat anything if you paid me."

"Then I'll leave you to go shopping, and tonight if you care about it we'll do a show."

Her eyes sparkled. "I should love it; it's—I don't know how long since I saw a show."

"Good," he fumbled in a pocket. "Here's a key to my flat—you may want it, or at the hotel, whichever you prefer. Would you like to dine first or have supper afterwards?"

"Supper afterwards, please."

"Then I'll call for you at eight o'clock—where?"

Syrie considered, then said definitely, "I'll be at the flat."

"I must come there to dress," he warned her. "But I can take my things to the new room."

Syrie nodded. "All right," she said. "I may as well get used to having you about the place."

Robert leaned his head on his hand. "The funny part of all this," he said, "is that I'm quite used to you already. I believe I should actually miss you if—if—"

"It came to an end," she added for him.

He nodded. "Yes, if it came to an end," he agreed.

"It will, you know," she reminded him, "and I've got to think of another job."

"I'll give you an excellent reference," he promised.

They parted outside the snack bar. "The shops are just round the corner," she said when he wanted to drive her.

"Have you enough money?"

"Have I enough money?" she echoed. "What do you think I've done with twenty pounds? Eaten it?"

He laughed. "You're a funny one," he said, and then, "well, goodbye, darling, till tonight."

"Good-bye, darling," she answered serenely.

Syrie had intended to spend the afternoon in a regular orgy of shopping, but in the end she bought only an evening frock and a wrap and some new shoes. She took them straight to Robert's flat.

It gave her a thrill to open the door with her latch-key and to drop the parcels down on the table; it was almost like really coming home, she thought, as she looked around with approving eyes. She laid the frock across the back of the sofa. If only she had thought to buy some flowers. She ran down the stairs again and to the nearest florist's, remembering as she did so that Miss Harwood had said it was a waste of money to buy flowers—but the memory only added to her pleasure in selecting them—Miss Harwood was not going to have it all her own way.

They certainly made a difference to the appearance of the sitting-room; it looked more "lived-in," Syrie decided. Would Robert notice them and be pleased? She hoped he would.

It seemed very hot, she thought, and she felt sleepy, too—the excitement of meeting Robert's stern aunt perhaps, and the strain of saying the right thing. Perhaps it was not so much that she had a little nap. She looked doubtfully across the narrow hall to Robert's bedroom—her bedroom now, seeing that he had taken one for himself in another part of the building.

The telephone rang; Syrie hesitated. Should she answer it? Robert had told her that the man who looked after him was there only in the morning and evening.

With a half shrug she lifted the receiver.

"Mr. Harwood, please," answered her "Hullo."

Syrie did not answer at once, then said, firmly, "Mr. Harwood is not in—this is Mrs. Harwood."

"Please hold on, I want you."

"It's the warrior," Syrie thought quickly—how well Robert had named her—and she was right.

"Is Robert there?"

"Robert is out, Miss Harwood," Syrie said. "This is Syrie."

"Oh!" There was the very slightest pause, and Syrie knew that it was not quite what the old lady had expected. "Well, there is no message—I will ring again. What time will he be in, do you think? Or don't you know?" she added rather disagreeably.

"He will be in this evening—about seven I should think—in time to dress. We are dining out, you know," Syrie said pleasantly. "I hope you are not feeling tired after your journey."

"I am never tired after a journey," the old lady retorted and Syrie heard the receiver being hung up.

"Well, that's that," she told herself humorously. "I'm glad I was in and that I answered it."

COULDN'T SLEEP COULDN'T WORK

What a relief to settle down to a real night's sleep, and wake fully refreshed ready for the day's duties. I was tortured by fretful nights—tossing, turning—never comfortable. Half awake days—drowsy, tired, driving body and mind to work when they needed rest. "Try Dodd's Kidney Pills," said a friend—"It may be your kidneys. I'm glad I followed his advice as now I'm sleeping like a top—thanks to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

ADVICE GIVEN TO CANVASSERS

Mrs. R. P. Shannon, Vancouver, Addresses Council Of Social Agencies

Mrs. R. P. Shannon, an experienced welfare fund worker from Vancouver, gave valuable advice to local residents who may be canvassing for the Community Chest at a meeting of the Council of Social Agencies held in the Y.W.C.A. last evening.

"Take your work seriously, be gracious and be sure not to antagonize your prospect," she said, in the course of a brief address. "Leave a kindly feeling behind in any house you enter and under no circumstances discuss the amounts given."

Mrs. Shannon pointed out some of the difficulties with which canvassers would meet, urged them not to be too easily discouraged and to become friendly and visit with those whom they contacted. She declared that the majority of people are sympathetic to crippled children and many are willing to help those less fortunate than themselves, but that the mass had not yet been educated to the necessity for character building.

STARTED IN SEVENTIES

Of considerable interest to members of the gathering was the information that the community chest idea was started in Liverpool, England, in the seventies of the last century.

The speaker declared Victoria was the fifteenth city in Canada to embark on a community chest and though she admitted that the work here would be harder than in Vancouver, where people have become educated to the plan, she pointed out the work was of extreme value and deep interest.

Reports of committee chairman were given by Police Magistrate Henry C. Hall, who spoke of vocational training and the problem of unemployed youth; Miss A. Creaser, who declared there would be a series of talks and demonstration on food buying beginning early in January, and Miss L. McLaughlin, who, in reporting on Christmas giving, outlined steps that had been taken to endeavor to have local municipalities give more at Christmas either in the way of work or extra relief allowances.

NO DIVIDING LINE

Dr. H. M. Cassidy spoke of arrangements for the programme for the November meeting when a case discussion will be held.

Dr. D. M. Duncan, chairman, before adjournment was taken, suggested that the welfare fund campaign in itself was not as valuable as its "by-products," one of which he declared was the spirit of unity engendered in the community.

"What is still more valuable in Victoria," he said, "is that in this campaign, as it is at present constituted, there is no dividing line of race or of creed."

EXTENDED FOR ANOTHER YEAR

Licences Give U.S. Fishermen Certain Privileges In Canadian Ports

OTTAWA, Oct. 29 (AP).—The council were published in the Ottawa Gazette, authorizing the Minister of Fisheries to issue licences to United States fishing vessels on the Atlantic Coast and United States halibut fishing vessels on the Pacific Coast for certain purposes. They replace similar orders-in-council passed last year.

Licences to United States vessels on the Atlantic Coast will permit them, during the calendar year 1938, to enter Canadian ports there to purchase bait, ice, seines, lines and all other supplies and outfits. The fee on each licence will be $1.

United States halibut fishing vessels obtaining licences will be permitted, during 1938, to enter any port in British Columbia for the following purposes:

To purchase bait, ice, nets, lines, coal, oil, provisions and other supplies and outfits.

To ship crew.

To land their catches without the payment of duty and to tranship them in bond to any port in the United States; sell them in bond to such local dealer or dealers as may be properly authorized therefor by the Minister of National Revenue, which dealers shall export same in compliance with the bonding requirements; and sell them for use in Canada on payment of duty. The fee on each licence will be $1.

CONFERENCE TO CONVEY TODAY

Trades Union Delegates From All Parts of Province Reach City

Arriving in Victoria from all parts of the province to attend the Trades Union Conference, about a hundred delegates reported last night at the Trades and Labor Council Hall, and it is expected that a further seventy-five delegates will reach the city today.

The conference will convene this morning at 9 o'clock in the A.O.F. Hall to discuss the trades union bill for presentation to the British Columbia Legislature. A credentials committee was appointed last night to take credentials this morning.

The delegates will hold a luncheon gathering in the basement of the hall at noon tomorrow. Hon. George S. Pearson, representing the Liberal party; Dr. F. P. Patterson, Conservative leader, and Samuel Guthrie, M.P.P., representing the C.C.F., have been invited to speak at the luncheon and welcome the delegates.

HEARING ACTION OVER PAYMENTS

Case of Hodgson Versus Erick Opens in County Court—To Be Continued Wednesday

Trial of an action in which Harry T. Hodgson is suing James Erick for the recovery of $154.17, alleged as a balance of a debt owing by the defendant, was started in County Court here yesterday before Judge H. M. Shandley and will be continued next Wednesday.

The action involves payments to the defendant, one allegedly as a loan and another payment of premiums on fire insurance, the amount mentioned in the claim being a balance due. Mr. Erick is denying the allegations. F. C. Elliott is appearing for Mr. Erick, and F. L. Shaw for the plaintiff.

Mr. Hodgson testified an amount of $200 had been advanced to Mr. Erick "as a person loan" and later he had given him a cheque for $400 to cover premiums on fire insurance on his premises. He claimed the amount was "for payment in full" for all policies and that some of the policies had been canceled.

At the afternoon sitting there was some question raised concerning the marking on a cheque "payment in full" and when it was penned.

CAMPBELL WINS TRIP TO GAMES

Defeats Gordon Bradshaw to Earn Right to Travel to Sydney, Australia

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Oct. 29 (AP).—Chuck Campbell, of the Dons Rowing Club, Toronto, won the right today on wind-swept Old Welland Canal to represent Canada in the singles sculling event at the 1938 British Empire Games in Sydney, Australia.

Former Canadian and United States champion, Campbell defeated one other aspirant for the Empire team, Gordon Bradshaw, of Toronto Argonauts, in an official trial at a mile and a quarter. His time was 7:46.

Withdrawal of Campbell's chief Canadian challengers, Johnny Coulson, Herb Miller and Jimmy Russell, took much from the trial race. The three Argonauts were entered, but none showed up for the race.

Campbell led Bradshaw from gun to gun, but was unable to pull far away from the game Argo, whose boat was only one open length back at the finish. Both steered erratic courses in heavy water.

Made Myself Young Again Writes a Business Girl

From a patient, good dispositioned girl I became a worried, irritable old woman, And this before I was thirty. My nerves got so run down That I could not concentrate on my work, And any extra strain would give me an attack of the jitters. I had to quit work and take a rest, For nervous tension, worry and sleeplessness Had brought on a nervous breakdown. Through the kindness of a friend I learned about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. In a year I have become years younger, And my old energy and ambition have come back. I do not worry, sleep well and fully enjoy life. Rest helped but I am sure I never could have regained health and vigor Without the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

"Witches Brawl" Draws Many Guests to Hotel

Black Cats and Ghosts Appear in Special Dance Numbers at Cabaret Given by Major John Hebben Gillespie Chapter

Witches and the traditional black cats, grinning pumpkin faces and weird ghosts all lent an air of typical Halloween gaiety to the "witches' brawl," a topsy-turvy Halloween cabaret held last evening at the Empress Hotel by the Major John Hebben Gillespie Chapter, I.O.D.E.

The hall was attended by 300 guests, and the tables in the ballroom were bright with bronze and yellow chrysanthemums, while the orchestra platform was banked with flowers and pumpkins, among which several black cats and ghosts added to the characteristic decorative scheme.

A novel touch was given to the affair by making it "topsy-turvy," the men being guests of the ladies, who supplied them with corsage bouquets, arranged the tables, booked the dances and generally acted as perfect "hosts."

A group of pupils of the Russian Ballet School appeared in a "ghost walk," those taking part being Misses Dolly Bradshaw, Myra Batchelor, Myra Edwards, Geraldine Paterson, Georgina Dowdall and Maud Renwick.

Two little "black cats," June Day and Joan Sidwell, were enthusiastically applauded for their tap dance, dressed in black satin "cat" suits. As they finished their number, Mr. Richard Gatehouse, dressed as Groucho Marx, emerged from his hiding-place, donned the garb of a Halloween witch, and mounting a broomstick and a scooter, chased the little "cats" from the ballroom floor. His Groucho Marx monologue was particularly amusing, and he was given a demonstrative reception.

A ten-piece orchestra played the dance music, and noise-makers, paper caps and hats added an air of carnival spirit to the evening's entertainment.

A Beautiful Victoria Bride

—Photograph by Savanah—

MRS. C. G. H. DANIEL

Whose marriage took place at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, last Saturday evening. The bride was formerly Miss Catherine Eva MacArthur, second daughter of Mrs. D. C. MacArthur, St. Patrick Street, and the groom is the only son of Mrs. W. C. Clinton-Baddeley, Cowichan Bay.

Weddings

PATERSON-LE BUS

Rev. James Hyde officiated at the marriage of Margaret, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Le Bus, 2555 Blackwood Street, and Mr. James Paterson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Paterson, 651 Belton Avenue, which took place at the manse of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church last evening at 8 o'clock.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a most becoming suit of heavy Delft blue wool, worn with navy blue accessories and lilac-of-the-valley. Miss Elva Le Bus, in a brown suit with matching accessories, who wore a corsage bouquet of roses, was her sister's bridesmaid, and Mr. Roy Paterson supported his brother.

An informal reception was held after the service in the Victoria West Liberal Hall, where a color scheme of green and white was carried out in the decorations. The bride and groom stood under a floral arch to receive the greetings of their friends, and later supper was served from a table centred with a large bowl of white chrysanthemums and green tapers in silver holders. The wedding cake stood at one end. Mrs. Le Bus wore a gown of green silk crepe with brown accessories, and Mrs. Paterson was dressed in navy blue. They both wore shoulder bouquets of roses. A small orchestra provided music for dancing.

After a short honeymoon on the Mainland, the couple will make their home at 2555 Vancouver Street. The bride went away in a two-topcoat with a wolf collar over her bridal outfit.

Among the gifts was a case of flat silver from the associates of the bridegroom on the staff of the Victoria Box & Paper Factory, Ltd.

BROWN-FAIRCLOUGH

The marriage was solemnized quietly on Wednesday at Christ Church Cathedral, Rev. E. O. Robb officiating, of Miss H. Maud Fairclough and Mr. Henry Brown. They will make their home at 2423 Beach Drive, Oak Bay.

A bricklayer was building a wall when a man in overalls came along and passed some remarks about bricklaying in general. The bricklayer, somewhat annoyed, asked sarcastically, "And wot do you do for a living?"

"I'm a precision fitter," the other replied, "and in our trade we have to work to a thousandth of an inch."

"Really?" said the bricklayer. "And 'ow many thousands are there in an inch?"

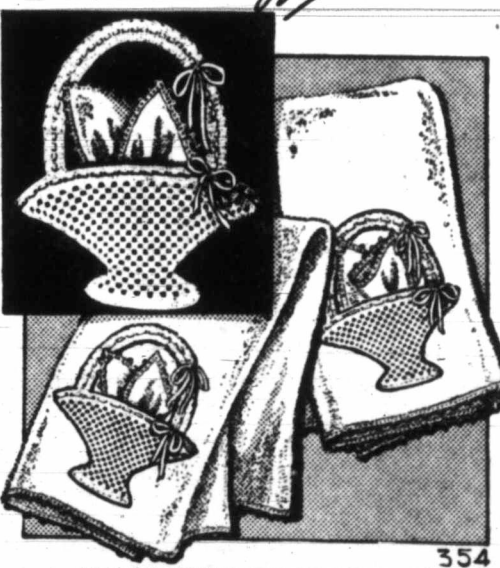

The fitter scratched his head, and then replied, "Blimey, millions of 'em."

Tommy was meandering homeward much later than his usual supper time. A friend of the family who happened to meet him said, "Why, Tommy, aren't you afraid you will be late for supper?"

"Nope," replied Tommy. "I've got the meat."

NOVEL CROCHET BASKET FOR BATH TOWELS

by Mayfair

MAYFAIR NEEDLE-ART-DESIGN No. 354

Quaint enough to have adorned grandmother's home, these clever little crocheted baskets will be a pretty and much admired addition to your modern bathroom. The top of the baskets are left open so that they form a pocket into which you tuck a matching wash cloth. Colorful ribbon is drawn through the open mesh at the top of the basket and through the handle, then tied in a bow to complete the design. This is also a most interesting and quick-to-make decoration for scarfs and runners, and is a smart idea for holding handkerchiefs when sewn to the front of a laundry bag.

The pattern includes complete easy-to-understand crochet instructions without abbreviations, detail chart, complete finishing and assembling instructions.

Anniversary Celebration A Gay Affair

The residents of James Island and friends from Vancouver and Victoria met at the Moore Club on Saturday evening, October 23, to honor two respected residents of the Island, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Bradley, who were celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding. The hall was prettily decorated with Autumn foliage and arbutus berries, and the stage was arranged with vases of dahlias and chrysanthemums from the Island gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Prentice, at Minden, Ont., on Thursday, October 16, 1887, by Rev. Mr. Tucker, and they were attended by Miss Isabelle Bradley and Mr. John Prentice, Jr. The bride was the former Jennie Christina Prentice.

GOLDEN DECORATIONS

A large number of friends had assembled to wish Mr. and Mrs. Bradley many more years of happiness. They were met at the hall by Mr. and Mrs. Emmens and Mrs. Peirce, and Mrs. Bradley was presented with a corsage bouquet of yellow roses and a large bouquet of white chrysanthemums and Mr. Bradley with a boutonniere. The guests sang "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

The bride's table was prettily decorated with golden streamers, lighted gold tapers in silver sconces, vases of golden yellow chrysanthemums and a two-tier gold wedding cake, surmounted by a miniature bride and groom. Over this, suspended from the ceiling, was a large white bell.

GIFT PRESENTED

Mr. Mead-Robins was master of ceremonies and introduced the mock bridal party, members of the football club. Mrs. Rows gave a Swedish drill and Mrs. Noakes was the accompanist for the evening. After community singing, Mr. Neil MacNaughton sang "All Joy Be Thine," "Love Is Mine," "The Yomen of England" and "The Longshoreman." During supper, Mr. W. S. Thatcher proposed the toast to the guests of honor and on behalf of their friends presented Mr. and Mrs. Bradley with a Westminster chimes eight-day clock. Mrs. Bradley cut the wedding cake, and after supper dancing was enjoyed. Little Miss Clare gave a tap dance.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hodgson, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hodgson and Mr. and Mrs. E. Allen, Vancouver; Mr. A. Prentice, West Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. A. Dennison, Mr. and Mrs. R. Rivers, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Dakin, Mr. and Mrs. W. Rowbotham and Miss Elsie Boyd, all of Victoria.

The committee responsible for the success of the evening included Mrs. A. Emmens, Mrs. C. Belfrage, Mrs. J. C. Doran, Mr. J. Maule, Mr. J.

Bride and Groom to Live Here

Rev. F. R. G. Dredge, pastor of Oak Bay United Church, officiated at the marriage of Daisy Bennett, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Borrowman, Newport Avenue, and Mr. John Horden Harvey, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Harvey, 2109 Sutherland Road, which took place at 9 o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's parents.

The music was supplied by Mr. C. Warren at the piano and Mr. Christopher Miller, who played the violin. As the bride came down the stairs with her father, who gave her away, the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" was played. The stair banisters were entwined with ivy, and large baskets of chrysanthemums and Autumn foliage were arranged at either side of the entrance arch into the drawing-room, where the service took place, during which the bride and groom stood beneath a floral arch between baskets of chrysanthemums in the bow window.

PRETTY BRIDE

The pretty bride wore a slim-fitting gown of black and white figured satin with short puff sleeves, and a stiff shoulder veil of black net arranged beneath a single gardenia above her brow. She also wore silver slippers and long white kid gloves and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. Miss Hetty Harvey, sister of the bridegroom, was her only attendant, in a gown of emerald satin, wearing a wreath of silver flowers in her hair, silver slippers and lace mittens, and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. Mr. David Meharey supported the groom.

About fifty guests were present at the service and reception which followed. Mrs. Borrowman was dressed in black chiffon velvet, and was assisted by Mrs. Harvey in black lace. They both wore corsage bouquets of carnations.

A three-tier cake centred the supper table, standing between silver candelabra holding tall white tapers and vases of roses.

LEAVE FOR VANCOUVER

The couple left at midnight for Vancouver for a motor trip on the Mainland, and on their return to Victoria will make their home at 962 Heywood Avenue. For traveling the bride wore a red clove dress with a fur coat and black accessories, and a shoulder spray of roses.

Among the lovely gifts was a silver tea service and tray from the staff of the Hudson's Bay Co., where the bride had been a member of the office staff.

Mrs. H. Dutton, Seattle, and Mrs. A. McKeown, Vancouver, were guests at the wedding.

Rebekah Lodge

The Halloween dance and pivot bridge held by Colfax Rebekah Lodge, No. 1, on Tuesday evening, was a success. The hall was gay with its decorations of yellow and black streamers, pumpkins, skeletons, and black cats. Novelty dances added to the amusement of the guests and prizes were won by Miss Isobel Mackenzie and Mrs. M. J. Mackenzie. There were thirteen tables of bridge in progress and prizes were won by Miss Boddington, Mrs. Robson, Mrs. Rose and Miss Tait. A prize for the lucky chair was won by Mrs. Mary MacLeod. Refreshments were served by an energetic committee of ladies under the convener of Mrs. Marie Penman. The lodge will hold a miscellaneous shower for the bazaar at the home of Mrs. P. A. Walker, 3153 Delta Street, on Friday evening, November 12.

Two-Piece College Dress

Here is a captivating wool two-piece outfit for your back-to-college wardrobe. You'll like the new Fall idea of the contrast of the navy skirt and rust shade jacket-blouse. It buttons right up to the little school-girl collar. Wear different sweaters with the navy skirt. For "dress-up" wear the rust blouse with a black velvet skirt.

Style No. 2002 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Size 36 requires two yards of 39-inch material for blouse with 2 1/4 yards of 39-inch material for skirt.

The Fall and Winter Fashion Book is filled with lovely designs for everyday wear, which are easy and inexpensive to make.

Miss Scott Is Bride of Mr. Stewart

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Victoria West, was seasonably decorated with an assortment of flowers and greenery for the wedding of Margaret Jane, younger daughter of Mrs. H. Scott, 3229 Irma Street, and of the late Mr. Scott, and Mr. Andrew Miller Stewart, second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stewart, Tait Street, Saanich, which took place at 8:30 o'clock last evening. White chrysanthemums tied with white tulle marked the guest pews.

During the service, which was conducted by Rev. James Hyde, the bride and groom stood under an arch of ivy and yellow and white chrysanthemums. The wedding marches were played by Mr. Jack Smith, and as the register was being signed, Mr. Bert Cartwright played "Still as the Night" (Carl Bohm) as a violin solo.

BRIDE AND ATTENDANTS

The pretty bride, who was given away by her elder brother, Mr. Robert Scott, wore a redingote frock of white lace over satin, and white lace mittens, and a veil of bridal net arranged in cap style and caught at the sides and back with a strand of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and Rapture roses.

Miss Jean Scott was her sister's only attendant, in a charming frock of turquoise blue chiffon, fashioned on princess lines and tied with a sash of coral chiffon. Her Juliet cap of coral chiffon was trimmed with blue flowers at the back, and she wore coral mittens and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums and snapdragons in coral tones.

Mr. James Stewart supported his brother.

RECEPTION HELD

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Scott, 3028 Wascana Street, during which the bride and groom stood beneath tall baskets filled with beautiful dahlias, in a setting of mixed flowers. A three-tier cake surrounded by folds of tulle, on a Madeira cloth, centred the supper table, which was arranged with vases of rosebuds and tall white tapers in silver candelabra.

The bride's mother was dressed in black figured triple sheer with black accessories, and Mrs. Stewart wore a frock of navy blue figured crepe and accessories in suite, and they both wore corsage bouquets of pink carnations.

After a honeymoon on the Mainland, for which the bride left in a brown two-piece wool suit, with a brown Harris tweed coat and brown accessories, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart will make their home at 856 Cowper Street.

INHERITED

"Late again, O'Malley," stormed the irate foreman. "How do you account for it?"

"It's inherited, sir," replied O'Malley. "You see, me father was the late Patrick O'Malley."

Tall Women Said To Live Longest

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (P.)—There's nothing you ladies can do about your height, but those of you who are tall can look forward to a longer life than others of your sex. So said Dr. Louis I. Dublin, statistician and third vice-president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, in addressing the annual meeting of the Association of Life Insurance Medical Directors of America. There is a definite relationship between build and mor-

Trousseau Shower
Mrs. George Hughes, Mount Stephen Avenue, entertained recently at a trousseau shower in honor of Miss Edith Willott, whose marriage to Petty Officer J. Misch, of U.S.S. Nevada, will take place shortly. The bride-to-be sat beneath an archway of tulle decorated with autumn foliage and flowers, intertwined with tiny colored lights. An illuminated replica of a battleship contained a "cargo" of useful and dainty gifts, the ship being "launched" by little Diana Blackstock, who looked charming in a primrose yellow frock. Bridge and bingo were enjoyed by the guests, and later refreshments were served by the hostess from a prettily appointed table, centred with shaggy white and yellow chrysanthemums, Mesdames P. Rawlings and M. Mitchell and Misses Audrey Willott and Edna Strannix assisting. The rooms were adorned with a profusion of autumn flowers. Among the invited guests were Mesdames P. Rawlings, W. H. Dreaper, I. Cameron, P. Gorton, W. Yeamans, C. Braithwaite, J. Kershaw, J. Maxwell, J. Kingscote, E. Bissenden, A. Gough, I. Erb, R. Easton, F. Grive, C. Tillesen, J. Glover, E. Sinclair, H. Willott, M. Mitchell and G. Hughes, Misses K. Martin, T. Vye, G. Harvey, E. McCaghey, D. McCaghey, G. Stenberg, M. Gorton, L. Braithwaite, E. Broope, A. Willott, M. Hughes, E. Strannix, B. Mitchell and Diana Blackstock.

Tea Table Shower
Miss Margaret Hamilton, "Strath-eam," Moss Street, entertained last evening at a charmingly arranged tea table shower in honor of Miss Edith Willott, a bride-to-be. On a special table in the sunroom, a five-tier "wedding cake" stood between ivory tapers in silver holders, and little vases of pink rosebuds. The "cake" had been most cleverly made from paper-covered boxes, graduating in size, each containing one of the gifts. Supper was served from a table in the dining-room, centred by a low bowl of nasturtiums and flower tapers. During the evening Mrs. Hubert Munday and Miss Wilhelmina Petticrew sang solos, and Mrs. Woodward, mother of the bride-to-be, played the accompaniments. Miss Lillian Woodward also sang a delightful solo. The guests were: Mrs. J. Hamilton, Mrs. A. Woodward, Mrs. M. Ramsay, Mrs. C. Watson, Mrs. H. Munday, Mrs. L. Woodward, Mrs. E. Burkinshaw, Mrs. W. J. Hamilton, Mrs. F. G. Hamilton, Misses Gladys and Phyllis Woodward, Beth Ramsay, Margaret Mackenzie, Dorothy Selden, Alleen Grubb, Wilhelmina Petticrew, Frances Munday, Rosamund Munday, Edith Brand and Betty Hamilton.

Entertained at Shower
Miss Flora Jones was hostess last evening at her home on Balfour Avenue, at a pantry shower, given in honor of Miss Irene Couch, whose marriage to Mr. Gordon McIntosh takes place next month. The living and dining-rooms were gay with black and orange streamers and autumn flowers. Upon her arrival, Miss Couch was given a dainty corsage bouquet from her hostess. The many useful gifts were presented to the bride-to-be in a large box decorated with orange and black crepe paper. Games were much enjoyed during the evening, after which a buffet supper was served from a prettily arranged table. Mrs. J. McKay and Mrs. G. Hughes presided. The guests were: Mrs. G. Love, Mrs. Sturley, Mrs. A. Couch, Mrs. Mc-

HALLOWE'EN PARTY HELD

Lake Hill Women's Institute Sponsors Children's Party To Help Solarium

Happy pandemonium once again reigned at the Lake Hill Community Centre last evening when the tenth annual Halloween party sponsored by the Lake Hill Women's Institute on behalf of the Queen Alexandra Solarium was held.

About 150 children, more than ninety of whom were in costume competing for the delectable prizes, attended the party, and many mothers and other grown-ups mingled with the merry throng and supervised the games, supper and dancing. The price of admission was ten cents as a donation of some kind for the Solarium, the result of this being that cash and several boxes of bottled fruit, jams, vegetables, apples, pears, sugar and other useful supplies were assembled at the receipt of custom, where Mrs. G. Bowers and Mrs. R. A. Porter listed the articles as they were left by the children. This donation is all part of the traditional work of the Women's Institutes, which have given special attention to the Solarium ever since it was opened.

GRAND MARCH
The party began at 4:30, and the grand march took place at 5 o'clock, when fairies, cowboys, Bo-Peeps, clowns, ballet dancers, Japanese and Chinese costumes, witches, Dutch girls, ghosts, Kate Greenways, old-fashioned Colonial dames, Russians, devils and robot-like persons passed in motley throng. C. Routley made a splendid master of ceremonies, with Desmond Burdon-Murphy at the piano to supply the march music and incidental numbers.

Judging was in charge of Miss Hilda Leighton and Mrs. P. R. Leighton, who gave the awards as follows: Prize for best Halloween costume, Joan Palmer, dressed as a witch; prize for best dressed child under six years, Joseph Dobbie, as a soldier; boys under eight, R. Milligan, as the robot or "Iron Man"; girls of eight and nine years, Eileen Watkins; boys under twelve, Colin Menzies, "the scarecrow"; girls, ten and eleven, Florence Smith; girls between twelve and fourteen, Rosemary Crowe; boys, fourteen years, Alfred Barr, "perfect lady."

After the judging, the institute president, Mrs. J. Findlay, who acted as general convenor of the successful affair, and Mrs. T. Currie, convenor of refreshments, took charge of the small folk and marshalled them downstairs for supper, a delectable feast of sandwiches, cake, ice cream, jelly and cocoa. Like the main hall upstairs, the supper-room was decorated with streamers of black and orange, and panels representing witches, black cats, bats, skeleton heads and other symbols of Halloween. Institute members and other grown-ups helping with the affair took tea a little later in the smaller supper-room adjoining.

The entertainment concluded with community singing, led by Mr. Burdon-Murphy, and a short programme of dance acts introduced by Miss Betti Clair and her girls: Dutch dance, Eileen Gahan, Jean Pringle and Frances Logan; minuet, Dorothy Rowland and Jacqueline Logan; and tap dance, Jo Thompson and Kathleen Pellow. The music for this was supplied by G. Schofield.

Following letter from the deputy provincial secretary to the City Council:

"I am instructed to inform you that His Majesty the King has approved of arrangements whereby two minutes' silence will be observed throughout the British Commonwealth at 11 o'clock in the forenoon on Remembrance Day, November 11. Accordingly you are asked to arrange suspension of all vehicular traffic throughout the two minutes."

Little Tommy came rushing out of the parlor. "What have you got in your hand?" asked his mother. "It's a penny," said Tommy. "Sister's boy friend gave it to me and told me to go to Australia."

A TIE
The skipper and the engineer were arguing. The latter said that steering a ship was much easier than looking after the engines, and the captain said looking after the engines was child's play compared with steering. They decided to settle the argument by changing places. After ten minutes the captain had to admit he was beaten. "Mac," he shouted, "I can't get the engines to start!" "That's all right," replied the engineer, "Ye needna bother—we are aground."

Peace Tour Undertaken

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP).—The People's Mandate to End War prepared tonight to launch a feminine "flying caravan" on a 17,000-mile aerial tour of Latin America in the interest of peace.

However, Bolivia and Paraguay, which recently fought a bloody war over the Chaco, were omitted from the itinerary.

A spokesman for the Mandate, a peace society, said Paraguay was being excluded because of "disturbed internal conditions."

Bolivia was omitted, it was explained, because "of the high altitudes in that country which make flying precarious."

The "flying caravan" is composed of five prominent women, whose major purpose is to urge on the Latin-American Governments the speedy ratification of peace pacts adopted at the Buenos Aires All-American Conference last December.

They are: Mrs. Burton W. Musser, Salt Lake City; Mrs. Ana Del Pulgar de Burke, of Washington; Mrs. Emock Wesley Frost, Taxarkana, Ark.; Mrs. Rebecca Hourwich Ryeher, New York City, and Mrs. Gaeta Wold Boyer, Miami, Fla.

Mrs. Boyer started a week ahead of the main party. The others will leave Washington tomorrow.

Churches and Their World-Wide Work

ANNIVERSARY WILL BE HELD

Dr. W. D. Reid to Preach and Lecture at Centennial United Church

Centennial United Church was organized in 1886, fifty-one years ago, and its anniversary will be observed on Sunday and Monday with services of special interest.

Tomorrow at 11 a.m. Rev. Dr. W. D. Reid, Montreal, will speak on "The Laws Governing Spiritual Development," and at 7:30 p.m. his sermon subject will be "The Gospel of the Second Mile."

At the morning service the choir will render the anthem "The Wilderness" (Goss), with solo parts by S. Swetnam, J. W. Dilworth and Frank Hollins, and in the evening the anthem, "Hear My Prayer" (Mendelssohn) with solo obligato by Mrs. S. Swetnam.

On Monday, at 6 p.m., supper will be served, which will be followed by an organ recital by Oliver R. Stout at 7:30 p.m. At 8 o'clock Dr. Reid, who was superintendent of missions in Alberta for a time, will lecture on "Roughing It in Sunny Alberta." The lecture will be interspersed with musical items.

ORGANIZED IN 1886
The congregation now known as Centennial United, was organized in 1886, as Victoria North Methodist, as an outgrowth of a Sunday school and mission from Metropolitan.

"The Gospel in the Church"

A Week of Prayer and Teaching, Conducted by
REV. E. C. R. PRITCHARD
Rector of St. Clement's Church, Seattle

Services every evening, except Saturday, at 8 o'clock. Service of preparation for Holy Communion, Saturday, 7:30 p.m.; Mission Service Sunday, 7:30 p.m.

The Bishop will be present at the opening service on Wednesday, November 10, and will give his blessing to the week's ministry.

EMPIRE OFFERS TWO SERVICES

"World Gossip" Is Rev. S. R. Orr's Evening Theme—Morning, Communion

There will be two services at the Empire Theatre on Sunday. In the morning the Communion will be dispensed by Rev. S. R. Orr. At the evening service he will speak on "World Gossip and the Marks of Britain's Divine Destiny." The following questions will be answered:

"Was the Duke of Windsor justified in his rebuke to the press?" "What is the significance of the fact that seven out of every ten newspapers are published in the English language?" "Why should we suspect all foreign news except what comes through London?"

"Will Japan strike directly against Russia to eliminate the Communist element in China?" "What does Scripture say about Britain's increase in the latter days?" "Is it fiction or fact that the early Britons were painted savages?" "What are the undisputed and indisputable marks of Britain's divine destiny?"

Owing to the delay in being able to dispatch the large quantity of goods and clothing received last Sunday for the destitute on the prairies, gifts may still be brought to the services tomorrow. Community singing will begin at 7:15 p.m. Doors open 6:30 p.m.

"Everlasting Punishment" To Be Lesson

"Everlasting Punishment" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday. The golden text is: "Blessed is the man whom Thou chastenest, O Lord, and teachest him out of Thy law" (Psalms xciv, 12).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the Lord" (Lamentations iii, 40).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health, With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Every supposed pleasure in sin will furnish more than its equivalent of pain, until belief in the material life and sin is destroyed."

WILL DESCRIBE

Government Offers Chairmanship of Private Bills To H. G. Perry

The Government extended an olive branch to H. G. Perry, M.P.P., former Speaker of the Legislature and mentioned at one time as possible choice for Minister of Trade and Commerce, yesterday by naming him first on the legislative committee on standing orders and private bills, a position which usually implies chairmanship of that important committee.

Captain Sidney Leary, M.P.P., reporting to the House from the committee on committees, produced the following line-up, which the Legislature forthwith approved:

COMMITTEES
Standing Orders and Private Bills—Messrs. Perry, Crone, Straith, (Mrs.) Smith, Forester, Connelly, Bryan, Tupper, Henninger, H. E. Winch, (Mrs.) Steeves, Telford, Maitland and Ansoncomb.
Municipal Matters—Messrs. Burns, Putnam, Henninger, Carson, (Mrs.) Smith, Gillis, Tupper, Straith, Forester, Shepherd, (Mrs.) Steeves, Hunter, Ansoncomb and Eyres.

Public Accounts—Messrs. Kenney, Burns, Asselstine, Crone, Putnam, King, Bull, Tupper, Leary, Carson, Johnston, LeBourdais, Straith, Bruhn, Telford, H. E. Winch, Patterson, Maitland and Ansoncomb.
Mining—Messrs. Asselstine, LeBourdais, Burns, Kenney, Putnam, Henninger, Connelly, Johnston, Leary, Murray, Uphill, Bruhn, Guthrie, Cameron, Paton and Pinland.

FORESTRY
Forestry—Messrs. Leary, Johnston, Connelly, King, Braden, Carson, Straith, Bruhn, Cameron, Guthrie, Patterson and Macintosh.
Fisheries—Messrs. Gillis, Bryan, Forester, Kenney, Murray, Asselstine, Cameron, E. E. Winch, Macintosh and Paton.
Agriculture—Messrs. LeBourdais, Bull, Connelly, Braden, Murray, Gillis, Shepherd, Telford, Eyres and Macintosh.

Railways—Messrs. Tupper, Murray, Perry, King, Braden, Crone, Forester, E. E. Winch, Telford and Pinland.
Printing—Mrs. Smith, Messrs. Bryan, Murray, Perry, Bull, E. E. Winch and Paton.

MAN'S THREE FOES TO BE PORTRAYED
"The Three Great Foes of Man" will be Rev. G. A. Reynolds' sermon subject tomorrow evening at First Baptist Church, when he will stress St. James' warnings against the insidious influences of "the world, the flesh, and the devil." In the morning the minister will preach on "The Christian Walk," basing his discourse on Romans vi, 9.

In the morning Miss Adeline Sangster will sing "I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes" (Eville). The choir will render Shelley's anthem, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is." At the evening service, Mrs. Alec Coles will be the soloist, and the choir will sing "In Thee, O Lord, Have I Put My Trust."

MISSION TO LEPERS
A public meeting in the interest of the "Mission to Lepers" will be held on Monday at 3 p.m. in Central Baptist Church. The speaker will be Rev. Dr. J. B. Rowell and the chairman, Rev. D. Walker. The need of more hospitals and homes for some millions of uncared-for lepers will be stressed.

TRUST
Had Oliver Wendell Holmes penned volumes and volumes of advice, he could not have turned it more neatly than he did in the line—(banks please notice):
"Put not your trust in money, but put your money in trust."

Longfellow may have had something of the same thought in mind when he wrote:
"Trust no future, how'er pleasant."

And it is not, we believe, stretching it too far to conclude that Shakespeare, always an individualist, nevertheless shared a similar sentiment.

Consider whether from the following lines it is not a fair inference that in matters amatory only did the Great Bard counsel direct action:

"Friendship is constant in all other things
Save in the office and affairs of love:
Therefore, all hearts in love use their own tongues;
Let every eye negotiate for itself
And trust no agent."

Trust is a word of noble pedigree, bearing and significance.
Its original ancestors are Old English, Icelandic, Danish, German and Gothic, indicating confidence, security, comfort and covenant.
(Copyright, 1937, by Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

"Your paper has malignantly" roared the irate citizen, as he stormed into the editors' sanctum.
"I demand that the guilty reporter right this wrong!"
"Trust him," retorted the editor sadly, "to write this wrong."

WILL CO-OPERATE IN CONSERVATION
Loggers' Association to Join in Campaign for Improved Handling of Forest Lands
VANCOUVER, Oct. 29 (CP)—The British Columbia Loggers' Association, comprising the chief logging operators of the province, said at a meeting here Wednesday they would co-operate fully with the British Columbia Government in its campaign to conserve forest lands.
To work out plans for next year's conservation programme, representatives of the industry will confer with Hon. Wells Gray, British Columbia Minister of Lands, in Victoria this week. Knowledge gained this year about the handling of forest lands to assure a maximum of reproduction will be discussed in detail with officials of the British Columbia Forestry Service, the association said.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

LEFTHANDEDNESS NOT A SIGN OF MENTAL DEFECT
I can remember sitting in class in my early school days and seeing a teacher come unexpectedly upon a youngster writing with his left hand. The youngster received a sharp blow with a ruler, pointer, or other object. In addition, the teacher took pains to tell the youngster and the class in general that lefthandedness was a physical defect, just as was spinal curvature, round shoulders, knock knees and flat feet. In fact, there might be something wrong with the brain itself.

In the next class above this I saw the teacher sit down beside the lefthanded youngster and kindly and patiently have him try to write with his right hand. You can thus see that whether the youngster was treated harshly or kindly, he was given to understand that there was "something wrong" with him or he would not be writing with his left hand. Thus when some of these youngsters were found to be epileptics, bed-wetters, or less bright than other children, these conditions and the lefthandedness were believed to go together; to be due to the one mental condition. However, from time to time during the past fifteen or twenty years, research workers have shown that lefthanded youngsters are at least as bright as other children, and have no more defects—epilepsy, bed-wetting—than normal children. Some months ago, Dr. Joseph J.

Michaels (Boston Psychopathic Hospital) and Dr. Sylvia E. Goodman (State Psychopathic Hospital, Ann Arbor (Mich.) in the Archives of Neurology and Psychiatry, recorded a study of 648 children of whom about 11 per cent were lefthanded. Their figures show that among these lefthanded children there were no more cases of bed-wetting, temper tantrums, sleep disturbances, dreaming and failures in school than among those who were righthanded. There was, however, a slight association of stammering, thumb-sucking and nail-biting with the ones who were lefthanded. The results of these investigations would show that while lefthanded children are as bright as those who write with the right hand, they are, to a slight degree, more nervous, because stammering, thumb-sucking and nail-biting are definitely "nervous" symptoms.

MAN EXPIRES WHEN WALKING ON ROAD

PORT ALICE, Oct. 26 (By Mail).—Jack Rayfield, a resident of San Jose, was found dead this morning on the road between Holberg and Ronnings. Mr. Rayfield was unmarried and leaves no relations in this part of Canada. He was probably about fifty-five years of age. He at one time lived in Vancouver, where he was employed at an engineering manipulator. He came to San Jose about 1911, and had always been an exemplary and helpful citizen. He built a small sawmill at San Jose, and he was for some time president of the Farmers' Institute in his district.

MARINE—TRANSPORTATION

DEVELOPING
FAST BOATSFollowing Other Countries,
U.S. Navy Now Building
"Suicide" Raiders

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP).—The United States Navy is preparing to follow the lead of other countries in developing small, lightning-fast "suicide" raiders and scouting craft.

Officials today declined to amplify a disclosure by Charles Edison, assistant Secretary of the United States Navy, that two experimental boats, designed to attain speeds up to fifty miles an hour, are planned.

Their swiftness, Edison said, would enable them to dash within a few hundred feet of an enemy vessel, discharge torpedoes and dart quickly out of range of hostile guns.

SAFE LANDING
ON ONE WHEELPassenger Plane With Damaged Gear Piloted to Ground Successfully

NEWARK, N.J., Oct. 29 (AP).—An American Airlines transport plane, carrying seven passengers, circled Newark airport for an hour and ten minutes today with a damaged landing gear before the pilot, B. C. Moore, Chicago, brought it safely to earth.

When the ship arrived at Newark from Chicago, Moore discovered one of the wheels of the landing gear was stuck. The pilot radioed the control tower of his plight, and the police emergency squad and ambulances were called. On the ground, airport attaches watched anxiously as the ship slowly circled.

Finally Moore came lower, and executed a "one wheel" landing. The passengers were slightly shaken.

VANCOUVER SHIPPING

VANCOUVER, Oct. 29 (AP).—Captain Rasmus A. Johnson, master of the tugboat St. Clair, was in hospital tonight recovering from injuries suffered when he slipped and fell while walking across a boom of logs at Teakern Arm, north of Powell River, Thursday.

The hospital reported he was suffering from possible rib fractures. Johnson was rushed to Vancouver and Captain H. Lysell, of the tug St. Lawrence, took over the St. Clair.

The American freighter St. Port Armstrong was due here Saturday at the Canada Shipping Company to load for Japan.

Vision of Australian Editor to Be Realized

The above picture, showing the Empress of Britain and Sydney's great harbor bridge, represents the dream of an Australian editor who, in making the composite picture from separate photographs at the time the bridge was opened, could not have known the Empress would ever visit the port "down under." Captioned "Splendid Empire Achievements," the picture showed the greatest single-span bridge ever built within the Empire, and the ocean liner which, launched a year previously, was, at the time, the largest ship built in the Empire since the war. The Empress of Britain will visit Sydney during her next world cruise, for the first time.

Arctic Patrol Craft
St. Roch Will Winter
In Esquimalt HarborLittle R.C.M.P. Motorship Here for Overhaul and Outfit After Absence of Two Years on Canada's Northern Water Frontier

Out of active commission until next May, when she will sail for another long spell of Arctic patrol, the R.C.M.P. motorship St. Roch is now lying alongside the dockyard jetty at Esquimalt. During her stay at the naval port, the staunch little vessel will be thoroughly overhauled and given a careful grooming in preparation for her long cruise north again in 1938.

Commanded by Captain Larsen, veteran of many years' service in Arctic regions and an old sailing ship hand, who holds sergeant's rank in the police, the St. Roch has a total personnel of nine when in commission, and carries thirty-five sled-dogs. She was last here two years ago.

LONG SLED PATROLS
During the summer months, the St. Roch patrols Canada's northern waterways until the ice starts to form, when her skipper seeks some sheltered bay where she will be reasonably safe from shifting ice-fields in the Spring of the year. From this winter base, long patrols are made by dog team, the longest trip accomplished last winter being in the neighborhood of 1,000 miles.

The most colorful incident encountered by the personnel of the St. Roch, outside their regular patrol duties anyway, was when moving ice caught the vessel while in company with the Hudson's Bay freighter Fort James last summer. The ships were lying within seventy feet of one another when the Fort James was nipped in the ice, and went to the bottom, the St. Roch escaping a like fate when she was lifted in the grinding floes, but suffered no greater damage than a broken rudder stock, which, although made from Australian iron-bark wood, was twisted and split for several feet, necessitating its replacement with a spare rudder carried for such emergencies.

LANDED SAFELY
The members of the Fort James crew and a number of Eskimos who were aboard the Hudson's Bay Company's ship were taken on the St. Roch and later landed safely. Navigating the St. Roch in Arctic waters has its difficulties. In those high latitudes, owing to the proximity to the magnetic pole, the compass is of little value. In clear weather the ship is coned through stretches of open water and drift ice from the bridge and crew's neck, while if caught underway in thick weather, guesswork must be relied on to some extent.

Built especially for Arctic work, the St. Roch is heavily timbered and sheathed with iron plates from keel to guard. There is no waste space aboard her, and her skipper stated she is very comfortable, even in the coldest of weather.

Freighter Aakre
Goes Aground on Atlantic Island

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Oct. 29 (AP).—The Norwegian motorship Aakre, which sailed from Saint John last night for Buenos Aires with 80,000 crates of New Brunswick seed potatoes, went aground on Whitehead Island, southeast of Grand Manan, early today in a heavy fog.

She is reported lying in twenty-one feet of water and, and nineteen feet of water forward and not damaged to any extent. The Aakre is of 2,386 tons and carried a crew of thirty-two.

JAPAN WILL
SAIL TODAYFlagship of Canadian Pacific
Steamships Off for Far
East Ports

With 350 travelers in all classes aboard, St. Empress of Japan, the Pacific flagship of Canadian Pacific Steamships, will get away for Far East ports by way of Hawaii this afternoon. The liner should arrive alongside the local dock, from Vancouver, at 4 o'clock, to embark passengers and take on mails and cargo.

LUMBER VESSEL
The freighter Hopewell docked at Ogden Point Piers shortly before 10 o'clock yesterday morning and began loading 600,000 feet of lumber for South African ports.

JAPANESE LINER
The Nippon Yusen Kaisha Ma. Helan Maru will sail westbound from Vancouver today, taking out a fair list of passengers for Japanese ports.

RAILWAY BROADCAST
A dramatization of the development of transportation in America will be broadcast over a nationwide radio network, November 1, according to Harry Douglas, Great Northern representative in Victoria. The half-hour programme will originate on the National Broadcasting Company's blue network and will be heard in Victoria between 8 and 8:30 p.m. Pacific standard time, over Station KJR. The play, "Pageant of Transportation," will feature a dinner of the State Street Council, a group of Chicago merchants. The pageant will be produced on a specially-constructed stage and will be presented by professional actors.

FREIGHTER CLASS
Acting under the provisions of the so-called Sprinkler Law, the United States Bureau of Maritime Inspection and Navigation compelled the 300-passenger steamer President Pook to leave New York on a round-the-world cruise as a freighter for failure to observe safety regulations. The law specified that before October 1 last all American ships berthed for fifty or more passengers must be equipped with automatic sprinkler systems. Owners of the Dollar Line preferred to install other equipment than sprinklers, the bureau states. The bureau emphasizes the action taken was not aimed at the Dollar Line alone, but had been enforced against several other lines as well.

GOOD-WILL MISSION
Japan's good-will mission, sent out to explain to the world about the situation in China, was greeted by a screaming, booing crowd at San Francisco on Wednesday night last. The demonstration was sponsored by the San Francisco District Council of the Maritime Federation of the Pacific, comprised of seagoing unions affiliated with the Committee for Industrial Organization. The Japanese good-will mission arrived on the N.Y.K. liner Tatsuta Maru and included Kojiro Matsuda, Vice-Admiral Takuo Goto, Kitchiro Okura, Jr., Hiroshi Ashida and Yomo Nomura.

When the first passengers started to come ashore from the liner there was a great chorus of shouts, catcalls and boos, while the demonstrators surged about the automobile exit of the pier and blocked it. Four hundred longshoremen who had started unloading the ship quit for fifteen minutes in protest. It took the police two hours to clear a path for the mission and clubs were used freely. A number of the demonstrators were arrested.

TO MEET NEXT MONDAY

General meeting of the Inland Boatmen's Union of the Pacific will be held on Monday, at 8 p.m., at 1304 Government Street.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

Mariners are advised that without further notice a white, flashing light showing one flash every fifteen seconds will be exhibited from the Merry Island Lighthouse instead of the white, fixed light now showing. A. W. R. WILBY, Agent, Department of Transport.

ARGOS MEET
OTTAWA GRID
SQUAD TODAYImportant Game Set in Eastern Circles—Toronto to Face Mustangs

By SYDNEY GRUBSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer.
To those who relish an old-fashioned grudge battle, the East has for recommendation today the return bout between Toronto Argonauts and Ottawa Rough Riders.

The possibilities of it being a knock-em-down, drag-em-out affair overshadow meetings between Hamilton Tigers and Montreal Indians; University of Toronto and Western; McGill and Queen's, and Hamilton Panthers and Sarnia. About the only sure thing in this set-up is that Sarnia will whip Panthers handily.

The Rider-Argo collision has been built into the No. 1 game of the week by an outburst of verbiage arising from the breaking of Harry Sonshine's jaw and Edwood McCall's leg in Toronto last Saturday, when Argos beat the Ottawans, 10-4. Charges and counter charges flew from camp to camp.

Centre of the storm, massive "Bunny" Wadsworth, will play despite an injured leg. He is eligible, for President Andy Davies of the Big Four expatriated the huge middle of Argo charges he deliberately used his elbow to bring down Sonshine, star of the Toronto secondary.

Assured of a play-off spot by a fourth win, Argos generally were favored to whip Riders again on the strength of a running attack that no club has been able to stop.

BIG CROWD ASSURED
A sell-out of 17,000 customers is expected to view Toronto and the unbeaten Western Mustangs resume where they left off in a 4-4 tie at London.

Toronto, at full strength, were likely to start lukewarm favorites over Mustangs, who will play again without Claude Moore, their star passing half. The football graveyard of 1937 awaits the loser of the Indian-Tiger battle at Montreal. Beaten soundly at Hamilton last week, Indians will have Johnny Ferraro in the field after a game's absence.

Hamilton's big guns will be carried by Hawley (Huck) Welch, back in kicking form, and young Teddy Manorek, whose plunging and running scalped the Indians at Hamilton.

It also will be quite for Queen's or McGill when they get through mauling each other at Kingston.

Sarnia will bid for one of the two victories needed over Panthers to win their eighth successive Ontario Union championship. The only question in this case concerns how many points Imperials will pile up.

Mount View School
Wins Major Trophy
At Children's GalaSaanch Swimmers Carry Off Sir Edward Beatty
Cup at Annual Aquatic Meet at Crystal Garden—South Park and Central Triumph

Promising young swimmers from the Mount View High School carried off the Sir Edward Beatty Cup, major award in the thirteenth annual school children's swimming gala staged yesterday evening at the Crystal Garden. The winners collected twenty-four points, eleven more than the second-place Victoria High School team. Oak Bay High School and South Park School shared third place with nine points apiece.

Natators from South Park School scored a thrilling victory in the relay event for the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion Cup, nosing out Central Junior High School in a great finish that brought students and parents to their feet.

The Pendray Cup, competed for annually by girls' relay squads, went to the Central Junior School, who finished second, feet behind the Oak Bay High School swimmers. Rules governing the trophy competition state that winning teams from Grades VII and VIII only are eligible for the cup.

WIN RELAY EVENTS
Going to the front at the start and maintaining their lead throughout, students from the Victoria High School carried off the honors in the relay event for Grades X, XI and XII. Mount View High School was second. It was quite the reverse in the girls' events: Mount View went in front in this race and were never seriously challenged. Victoria High School was second over the entire course.

Alderman Stanley Oskell, representing Mayor Andrew McGeiv, presented the prizes. In a few well-chosen words the city father complimented the officials of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club, and gala sponsors highly commended The Colonist for conducting their swimming classes.

Jack Neary, president of the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion, presented the legion trophy after congratulating the members of the winning team.

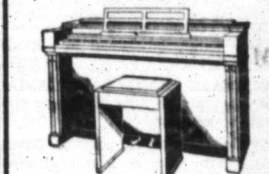

There were many close finishes to provide the thrills for the large enthusiastic gallery.

"If It's a Surprise You Want to Give Him . . . Why Don't You Jump From Behind a Door and Shout 'Boo!'"

Jane Dixon Says:

ROUND-UP DAY: A GIRL WANTS TO KNOW WHETHER TO GIVE UP HER JOB AND MARRY A MAN WHO EARN ONLY SIXTEEN DOLLARS A WEEK—MANY HELPFUL LETTERS OF ADVICE FOR THE MOTHER OF THE UNMARRIED GIRL WHO FACES MOTHERHOOD—THE SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL WHO IS TAKING A CERTAIN GAY YOUNG MAN TOO SERIOUSLY

We're off for another Round-Up!

Miss S. A.—The young man has a good personality; he is "smart," abstemious, and he "lets you have your way in everything." He has asked you to marry him after more than a year of courtship. His salary is only sixteen dollars a week and yours is thirteen dollars a week. What are you going to do about that? Only one thing you can do—realize the difference between a sixteen dollar-a-week salary for a man with a wife and a home plus himself to support, and a combined salary of twenty-nine dollars a week for a couple of sweethearts. Can you make out on sixteen dollars a week for the two of you? Is his job secure? Is there a future in it? Women in love have been happy on less than sixteen dollars a week for their homes, but they have to be clever and cheerful to sacrifice for the love they have. Try making a budget and see how far the sixteen dollars will go. If neither of you have saved a sum of money for an emergency fund, I should advise you to do so before embarking on your great adventure.

Mrs. E. D. K.—Thanks so much for your kind and helpful letter. You advise the young girl who faces motherhood—unwed—to go to a Salvation Army Home, where she will be able to work, to have proper care, to avoid pointing fingers. I was astounded by the number of mothers who have responded to the call of the unfortunate girl and her understanding mother. From all points of the compass responses came, and they included everything from financial aid to home protection. I wrote the mother immediately after I received her letter, advising her to the best of my knowledge. Many offers of assistance have been printed since the reply was given. I have not heard from the mother, so I have a fair hope that my advice solved her problem. If she reads this "thank you" to Mrs. E. D. K., I hope she will let us know what further help we might offer.

Seventeen—Sorry, my dear, but if the young man doesn't ask you for "dates" it is the surest sign in the world that he doesn't want to "date" you. Accept his compliments and his "rushes" at dances with a grain of salt. Make up your mind to be amused by his silly tactics, not worried by them. You are both very young. Perhaps he does not care to identify himself with one girl. So that should be your cue to rise, shine and do likewise. The next time he gives you the grand rush, you rush him right back. Make a great fuss over him and laugh! He will get your idea, and if he hasn't been interested in you he will be when he finds he is your pet laugh. Men recent being taken seriously. If they find you are not taking them seriously that's a different story.

Student—What moving picture did I see last? I saw it only last night. "The Good Earth." About a farm woman who was driven out of her quota of earth in China, and with her husband and children went in search of green grass. Far away in another corner of her country she was caught in a revolution, carried into the palace of the rich. There, after being trampled by the mob, she found a bag of jewels. She turned the jewels over to her husband. Then the trouble began. Husband found another less workman, younger, more stimulating woman. He discovered his mistake after too long a time. "The Good Earth" sacrificial wife passed on in silent quills on her son's bridal eve, with reconstructed husband pouring the pearls she had found in the rich man's palace, into her lap. Unfortunately she couldn't appreciate them enough because, in the next few feet of film, she died. I'm still wondering what the wandering husband did with the pearls and the "Good Earth." He vowed, under a sacred cherry tree, that he would enjoy them alone, but somehow, in view of his past performances, I can't quite reconcile myself to that row. I think that if we wives have any pearls we should wear them, and not be passing them on for the benefit of our successors.

MODERN ARCHITECTURE

An architect had been invited down to the Jones' to display the plans of the new house to some guests.

"Here is the front elevation," explained the architect, as he laid the plans on the library table for the inspection of the visitors, "with the outside window and the circular gallery; this is the east elevation, showing the tower."

After various comments had been made by the guests, little Johnny, aged eight, who was enormously interested in the new house, cried: "And where are the two mortgages father said he was going to put on?"

WANTED—VARIETY

The little girl of the family was seated at the breakfast table one morning. As usual, eggs were served. Either she was not hungry or she had grown tired of the bill of fare, for very earnestly and soberly she remarked: "I do wish hens would lay something besides eggs."

A NEAT JOB

"Did you investigate that burglary at the harness-makers?" asked the chief. "Yes, sir," replied the detective. "Did you find any clues?" "No, sir, the burglars removed all the traces."

LAWYER TELLS HOW ACT WORKS

Roy Manzer Addresses Real Estate Members on Creditors' Relief Measure

Members of the Real Estate Board heard an address by Roy Manzer at the luncheon meeting yesterday in Spencer's dining-room on the Mortgagors and Purchasers' Relief Act, which is generally known as the Moratorium Act. The speaker was thanked for the information which he gave the realtors on a subject with which they were called upon to act.

Mr. Manzer traced the history of the act from the year 1931 to the present act, which had been passed in 1935, explaining the various weaknesses that had been encountered in the successive acts and which were year after year remedied by amendments.

ALTERATIONS MADE
One of the weak points in the early acts was that it became possible for a debtor to live rent free without paying interest, etc., at the expense of the creditor. This was recognized as being far away from the proper principle of the act and had been altered.

Under the existing act, non-payment of taxes was made the basis for foreclosure orders. Taxes had to be a year "or more" in arrears, and he explained that in the courts there had been a definite definition established in effect to this wording by the judges.

The act, it was pointed out, was not among the statutes included in the Consolidated Statutes under the date of July 1. The matter had been argued before Mr. Justice Manson as to whether the act was to be regarded, therefore, as not now in effect. The opinion of Mr. Justice Manson was that the act was still to be regarded as in effect. It could be repealed, he believed, by order-in-council.

LADYSMITH DROPS ANNUAL BONFIRE

Council Hears Complaints of Damage to City Property by Different Agencies

LADYSMITH, Oct. 29.—Lady-smith's annual Hallowe'en bonfire will not blaze on Market Square this year. It was decided at the meeting of the city council last evening. Alderman Steele, chairman of the board of works, usually responsible for that phase of the celebration, explained there was a shortage of old lumber to build the huge pile, and the men of his department were very busy on streets and other important works, so that no labor could be spared.

Alderman Cullum reported that street lights were being regularly smashed in some parts of the city. He believed sling-shots in the hands of youthful rowdies were responsible. It was decided to issue warnings against the practice, and with this will be coupled a similar notice against damage to street signs.

Mayor W. W. Walkem and Aldermen Cullum and Steele will sit as a court of revision on the civic voters' list on December 10. Another committee from the council was appointed to co-operate with one from the Army and Navy Veterans on arrangements for the observance of Remembrance Day, November 11.

CAUSE MINOR DAMAGE
Recent heavy rains caused minor damage to streets. It was reported, and considerable gravel was washed over First Avenue. Alderman Steele said his department was tired of waiting for the Provincial Works Department to fulfill its obligations toward maintaining First Avenue as part of the Island Highway.

At the early part of the summer, the city had placed screened gravel along the avenue on the assurance the department would proceed with the promise to extend surfacing work. Nothing had been done, and the rain had washed the gravel over the avenue, choked ditches and drains, and wasted the time and labor of a season. He proposed to disregard promises of the kind in future, and with place men to keep the main traffic route clean.

The council concluded a brief session by recording sympathy with the family of Thomas A. Spruston, former superintendent of the Canadian Collieries at Extension, who passed away recently at Vancouver.

Waterspout Washes Away Syrian Town

DAMASCUS, Syria, Oct. 29 (CP-Havas).—More than 100 persons were killed yesterday when a waterspout engulfed the village of Dmeir, northeast of here.

The water in the wake of the spout attained a level of nearly ten feet and severed highway communications between Damascus and Bagdad.

The great flood rushed down from the hills and swept through the town, washing away almost all the houses.

What Today Means

"SCORPIO"

If October 30 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. until noon; from 2 to 4 p.m., and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m.; from 6 to 8 p.m., and from 10 p.m. until midnight.

Superstition may be the impelling force back of many people's actions this day. Self-deception and bigotry must not be allowed to influence unsophisticated minds, particularly children's, so parents and guardians must be alert. You may have the opportunity to follow the lead of someone interested in putting a constructive plan or rule into practice. Co-operation on your part is likely to be most helpful. You may receive some word or communication from someone in a remote place, and the chances are that most of this day's news will be good and conducive to happiness. Avoid being stand-offish this day, for the spirit of good-fellowship perhaps will help brighten this day for you. Married and engaged couples, and those ready to become engaged, had better remember it seldom pays to be too independent.

If a woman and October 30 is your birthday, you are probably a firm believer in minding your own business. You most likely have very little curiosity, and may become easily bored by people in whom you have no especial interest. Extreme indifference is one of the great faults of many born on this date, for it sometimes seriously interferes with their becoming popular. You are apt to have some great talent that can be developed advantageously. As a designer, actress, author, sculptress, artist, musician, singer, lecturer or broker you should become very prosperous. Married life ought to be a panacea for most of your troubles or worries.

The child born on October 30 becomes so popular, usually during its early teens, that it requires a lot of common sense on the part of parents to prevent the youth's scholastic career from being handicapped by too many social activities.

If a man and October 30 is your natal day, you may have conflicting emotions. Get the habit of being an optimist. It will be well for you to remember geniality makes friends, whereas grumpiness creates enemies. As an architect, engineer, contractor, politician, lawyer, writer, educator or actor you may win the laurels of fame.
